Lending a hand (although she seems more interested in the cameraman) is Daryl's sister, Laura, 4. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Richard May of 84 Ashland drive, Daly City, and they were with their mother on a Christmas mailing expedition.

JESD Teachers Seek Pay Raise

Teachers in the Jefferson Elementary school district have asked the district's board of trustees to grant a 7 per cent pay raise.

Michael Pennings, representing the Jefferson Classroom Teachers Association, outlined the association's case for a pay raise before a meeting of the board.

Home Sale Signs Ban Requested

Additional amendments to a long-studied, proposed new zoning ordinance to eliminate real estate "for sale" signs within city limits and to set up a new "unclassified" zoning classification were requested by Pacifica city councilmen in a joint meeting with planning commissioners Monday night.

Councilmen and commissioners, in a two-hour long meeting, also discussed the possibility of reinstating a policy to control construction of curbs, gutters and sidewalks.

It was decided that a provision should be placed in the city's new zoning law prohibiting the erection of all "for sale" signs by real estate brokers. Such signs would be allowed, however, if they are put up by homeowners themselves. The measure is sponsored by the local real estate board.

Councilmen suggested that a "U" or unclassified zoning (Please See Page 2, Column 3)

A proposed policy for Pacifica's Park, Beach and Recreation commission that states clearly that it is an advisory body only will be studied by the Pacifica city council tonight.

Commissioners have requested that city councilmen meet in joint session with them to review the commission's duties and responsibilities.

The proposed policy and request are the result of action by the commission in cancelling a Halloween teen-age dance. The action superseded a decision made by the recreation department director to hold the affair in spite of neighborhood complaints.

The proposed PB&R policy was drawn up by Councilman Fred Ballew, a former commission member, in consultation with present commissioners.

It states that the function of the commission is to serve as a liaison and advisory body for the city council in matters of concepts and policy concerning parks, beaches and recreation.

Its duties include making special studies at council requests, alerting the council to any matters of particular interest, keeping in close touch with community desires and maintaining a good relationship with the recreation department staff.

Its responsibility to the staff, according to the proposed policy, is to "interpret policy and (Please See Page 2, Column 6)

IF CHANGES APPROVED

Serra Freeway Delay Seen

Changes in the routing of Junipero Serra freeway that could delay the project for six months were proposed Thursday by South San Francisco.

The realignment, it was explained at a meeting in Redwood City, would be designed to save some 20 acres of the Westborough subdivision that are now scheduled to be condemned for right of way.

R. A. Hayler, district engineer of the State Division of Highways, said the freeway project would be delayed from four to six months if the proposed changes are to be studied by the division.

And he expressed doubt that the division would approve the realignment even after the studies were made.

MEMBERS of the county board of supervisors were admittedly stunned by the South San Francisco proposal.

Chairman James V. Fitzgerald and County Engineer Don S. Wilson said they had heard reports that real estate developers in the area were unhappy with the county. So the developers, representatives of South San Francisco and Daly City, and the state highway officials were invited to the meeting Thursday to talk it over.

WILSON started off by saying that it appeared that the problem had to do with plans of the Westborough developers for a regional shopping center at Junipero Serra and Westborough boulevard, and plans of the Suburban Realty company for a shopping center four miles to the north at Junipero Serra and the connector to the Cabrillo freeway.

Wilson assured the group that the county had no intention of favoring either developer in its approval of plans for connector roads and ramps along the freeway route.

William Morton of Suburban arose to state that his firm had no complaint. Michael Callan of Westborough then told the board:

"I DON'T think we have any problems at all with Suburban."

Wilson then talked some about the need of the local jurisdictions to get started on the King drive and Hickey boulevard extensions if the state is to include connectors for them in their freeway plans.

Eugene Alelio, South San Francisco city manager, then exploded his bombshell on the group.

He pointed out that Westborough was annexed to the city only two weeks ago and that the city is just now becoming officially aware of the development's problems.

Alelio said that Westborough engineers and consultants had drawn up a new plan for the routing of the freeway through (Please See Page 2, Column 3)

Slide Peril To 4 Homes Is Abated Gully Filled, Drain Pipe Installed

The threat from erosion to four Daly City homes above the Old Coast highway has been abated, City Engineer William Chapman reported yesterday.

Chapman has informed the homeowners at 8 Lynvale court, 84 Lynvale, 1 Skyline drive and 84 Skyline that their homes "are as safe as they were" prior to landslides last month that created the emergency situation.

Because of the location of the houses, however, the city could not completely guarantee their safety, he said.

Construction crews Saturday finished filling in a huge gully caused by the big slides. The crews also have replaced a storm drain there, Chapman said, with a temporary pipe.

A more permanent facility is being constructed toward the east for hook up with an 18-inch storm drain.

He'll Devote Time, Energy To Campaign

By RON BATES

Daly City Mayor Joseph J. Verducci announced his resignation, effective January 1, 1964, to the city council Monday night.

The move was made, he said, to enable him to intensify his campaign for Alvin Hatch of Half Moon Bay, who now represents this area, has announced he will not seek re-election.

Councilmen indicated they would appoint Verducci's successor at a special meeting Monday night.

Verducci is opposing Pacifica Councilwoman Jean Fassler and Attorney Thomas Bocci for the supervisorial position.

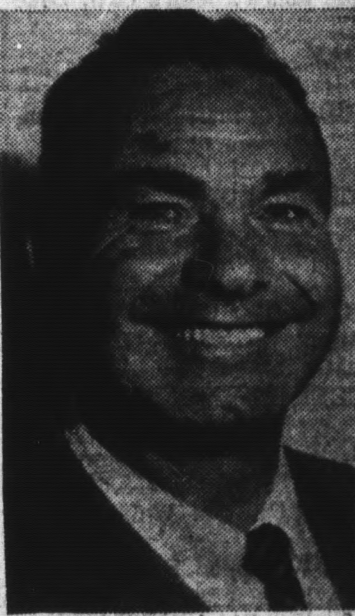

In a letter of resignation, Verducci said: "The duties and demands on the mayor are such as to interfere with the amount of effort and energy which I will exert in the approaching June election."

He has four months remaining of his present term. He said his leaving would cause "little disruption" because of the experienced councilmen who will remain.

Councilmen immediately expressed regret at Verducci's resignation.

Mayor Pro-Tem Michael De Bernardi said his departure will be "a distinct loss to Daly City." He credited Verducci's leadership for the city's growth in "an orderly fashion."

Councilman Francis Pacelli told Verducci: "Your best quality is being able to disagree so nicely and (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

Controversial Rezoning Gets Council Okay

The Daly City council approved Monday night a controversial ordinance rezoning property at the end of Wellington street and single-family to multiple dwelling. It was the second and final reading of the ordinance.

The rezoning, requested by developer Gus Pedemonte, had met with opposition from neighbors.

Charles Garry of 482 Wellington avenue said residents were worried about a water reservoir in the area.

Problems of water leakage from the reservoir and an expected drop in the water pressure from apartments planned by Pedemonte were the prime concern, he said.

The residents also feared the reservoir would break loose as it did in 1939 when it flooded several homes nearby.

City Engineer William Chapman said he is not aware of any seepage in the area and after seeing some of the developer's plans, said he was convinced the construction would have no effect on the reservoir.

The area, although zoned for single-family dwellings, has been designated for multiple-dwelling in the city's master land use plan.

Pedemonte has agreed to surface streets serving the proposed apartments, Chapman said.

It's Auction Time Again

It's auction time once again at Daly City Police Headquarters.

At 10 a.m. Friday, the department will auction unclaimed bicycles, tricycles and other miscellaneous articles.

The auction will be conducted at the rear of the City Hall at 75 Wellington avenue. All items will be sold "as is" and for cash only.

County Firm On Denial of Temple Plan

B'nai Israel Offered Aid By Board

County supervisors expressed concern last week over the plight of Congregation B'nai Israel, which is losing its temple in Daly City and has no place to go, but could offer little help.

The board was adamant that it could not permit a new synagogue to be built on a lot in Colma that the congregation had acquired.

The lot has only 15,000 square feet, whereas the county's minimum requirement for a church site is 20,000 square feet.

Supervisors offered, however, to try to help the congregation acquire an adjoining lot that would bring the total property up to stand.

Temple B'nai Israel, the oldest in San Mateo county, has been condemned because it is (Please See Page 2, Column 5)

The 'Senator' Has a Point!

ONE HUNDRED STUDENTS at Jefferson High school in Daly City became "members" of the U. S. Senate last week in the school's fifth Annual Model Senate. The two sessions Wednesday and Friday culminated a semester's study by students of the Senate. The students corresponded with senators and read books and newspaper articles about them.

Sky-diving Santa Is Off Target

A sky-diving version of Santa Claus arrived soaking wet in a Pacifica Shopping center Saturday.

He had missed his target in the Eureka Square center and landed a half mile out in the ocean.

Four surfers raced from shore and pulled in Ronald Young, 25, of Alameda, a professional skydiver.

He arrived on the beach without his beard, wig, gift sack, parachute and padding—and with his jolly "ho ho" sounding more like a gurgle.

Santa changed into dry attire and went through his routine at the center—though not strictly as originally scheduled.

Radio Tower Permit Is Sought From Planners

Erection of a 55-foot radio tower at 666 Skyline drive will be considered Tuesday by the Daly City planning commission. Permission for the tower is being sought by ham operator John L. Parris.

Erosion Peril Is Alleviated

The rainstorm had no visual effects on the slide area, Chapman said, other than to reveal leaks in the new storm drain joints.

Chapman said the leaks, including one which caused a four-foot gully, have been repaired.

Meanwhile, State Senator Richard Dolwig is working in Sacramento to secure an easement through the Thornton Beach Park from the State Division of Parks and Beaches for the installation of a permanent drain.

The division claims that the park area is also unstable. Chapman said last week, and local state officials are reluctant to grant the easement.

The city council last week transferred $20,100 from its general fund to handle the cost of the emergency construction.

MARITAL DISPUTE

Woman Dragged by Car

A 20-year-old Daly City woman was dragged a block and a half while hanging onto the side of her husband's car after a marital dispute late Monday night.

The woman, Marie Ochoa of 6658 Mission street, suffered multiple abrasions and contusions over her entire body. She was treated at Peninsula hospital and released.

Her husband, Leo, 21, was charged with felony drunk driving.

Police investigators pieced together this sequence of events:

Ochoa and a companion, Roberta M. Brown, 19, of Larkspur, had spent the early part of Monday evening drinking in Larkspur and in a Daly City tavern.

With Ochoa at the wheel they drove to Ochoa's apartment on Mission street about 11:30 p.m. Ochoa left Miss Brown in the auto and entered the apartment.

He argued with his wife there and she chased him from the apartment. Ochoa jumped into the car with his wife close behind.

He drove the auto away at what police termed was a "high rate of speed."

Mrs. Ochoa, meanwhile, had grabbed onto the sideview mirror on the driver's side and hung on.

After the car had traveled a block and a half, the mirror broke off and Mrs. Ochoa tumbled to the pavement.

She was found at Mission street and Westlake avenue.

Ochoa was halted a short time later in front of 7360 Mission by Patrolman Jay Machin who had been alerted by radio.

Police said Mrs. Ochoa's shoes had been worn completely through in four or five places during her ordeal.

She told investigators she had hung onto the auto because she was afraid it was traveling.

A DOUBLE VIOLIN concerto will be offered by Jack Kendree, left, managing director of the Westlake Shopping center, and Paul Hupf, city attorney of Daly City, at the annual Christmas party of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce in the Friar room, December 19. The Reverend Richard Fowler of St. Martin's Episcopal church will be the guest speaker. Westmoor High school's 40-voice choir will also entertain with Christmas music.

Major Delay Possible for Serra Road

JACK VAN ZANDT of the engineering firm of Wilsey, Ham and Blair, Ronald Calhoun of the same firm, John Forristal of a Sacramento consulting firm and Dwight Phillips of Westborough outlined plans for the realignment.

Generally, the proposed new route would follow the existing Junipero Serra boulevard right of way. It was pointed out that this would save the state the expense of acquiring a new right of way through the subdivision as called for in present approved plans.

Phillips said the state's alignment would cause the subdivision to lose 1400 apartment units and Richard Armor of Westborough said it would require a complete redesign of the shopping center.

He said if the present routing is retained, it might "break the back" of the shopping center.

HAYLER told the group that the plan now proposed by Westborough is similar to the division's original plan.

But it was rejected in favor of the present alignment. Hayler asserted that both Westborough and South San Francisco had approved the present alignment in May of this year.

classification should be created to handle difficult zoning issues such as an application recently submitted to the city for a pet hospital facing Cabrillo highway in the Sharp Park area.

Although planning commissioners turned down the pet hospital, city councilmen have indicated they will approve it.

All applications for unclassified uses would require special use permits. It is expected that approval of the controversial pet hospital will be delayed until passage of the new ordinance.

Councilmen agreed a policy controlling construction of curbs, gutters and sidewalks, abandoned some time ago except on highway frontage streets, should be re-instated.

City Engineer Alfred Roberts was instructed to prepare a program of street grades throughout the city and a policy which the council can follow.

Because of their rural character, it was agreed that both Valmar and Pedro Point should be eliminated from the policy.

Verducci topped the voting in the election of 1952 when he entered the campaign for the council as a "last minute" candidate," sponsored by the Westlake Improvement association.

He was encouraged to run by Dr. George Gibson, then acting president of San Francisco State college.

He has been mayor for six of the 12 years he has been on the council.

During his term of office, Daly City has grown from 20,000 to about 60,000 and with annexations has tripled its size.

With his resignation as mayor, he also relinquishes two important posts outside the city—president of the San Mateo County Council of Mayors and second vice president of the League of California Cities.

Verducci was the first Daly City official to hold an officer's position in the League of California Cities.

He is well known for his success as a football coach at St. Mary's college and San Francisco State college and as a player himself while attending the University of California from 1929 to 1934.

He won the Ady Smith "Inspirational Player" award twice while quarterbacking the California Bears. He was dubbed "Little Joe" because he was only 5-6 and weighed 155 pounds.

Gala Christmas Program Readied

A gala Christmas festival will be sponsored again this year by the Daly City Department of Recreation.

The program, which department officials say will appeal to all members of the family, will be held Thursday and Friday nights, December 19 and 20, in the War Memorial Community center.

The festival will feature a 75-minute pageant, entitled: "Christmas—Its Carols, Customs and Legends."

An original script has been authored by Mrs. Patti Stolz.

The Daly City Community Chorus, under Mrs. Stolz' direction, and the Recreation department-sponsored children's creative dance and teen-age drama classes will star in the production.

The pageant will be narrated by Ed Tomasello, supervisor of recreation.

Charles Vincent, director of recreation, will direct a stage crew.

Admission will be free. Youngsters, however, must be accompanied by adults.

yet getting your point across. I'm sure you'll do the same excellent job as a county supervisor."

Councilman Edward Dennis, who took his seat on the council when Verducci was elected for the first time, said the people of Daly City had indicated they liked Joe Verducci for his aggressiveness and ability when three times they made him "number one man" in Daly City.

Councilman Bob St. Clair echoed the sentiments of the other councilmen but disagreed with one of the statements.

"I'm sure your leaving will cause a disruption on the council," he said. "The city is going through this tremendous growth smoothly, largely because of what you have done as a mayor and councilman. Our loss is the county's gain."

Speaking for the administrative staff, City Attorney Paul Hupf said:

"All who have worked with you on the staff level have enjoyed it. You've had the respect of all of them... you are known so widely outside Daly City in various positions and this widespread popularity has definitely been an advantage to the city. This council will not be the same without you."

Verducci topped the voting in the election of 1952 when he entered the campaign for the council as a "last minute" candidate," sponsored by the Westlake Improvement association.

He was encouraged to run by Dr. George Gibson, then acting president of San Francisco State college.

He has been mayor for six of the 12 years he has been on the council.

on the route of the proposed Junipero Serra freeway. The congregation has been given until January 1 to vacate the temple at 67 Los Banos avenue.

Despite the size of the lot at 1575 Annie street in Colma, the county planning commission issued a permit for the synagogue to be relocated there.

The commission said that plans for parking spaces under the church made up for the smallness of the lot.

Rabbi Solomon Shore and Julius Michaelis, president of the congregation, told the supervisors last week that, on the strength of the commission's action, the congregation bought the Colma lot for $32,000.

It had been paid only $30,000 in the condemnation action against the temple property in Daly City.

Joseph Delucchi, owner of an adjoining lot, filed an appeal, however, and the board of supervisors overruled the planners and withdrew the permit.

Duties Are Reviewed

Pacificia police cannot provide traffic control for the Church of the Good Shepherd along the Coast highway, Chief Neil Tremaine will report to the city council tonight.

Tremaine's report suggests that "if the church wants regular traffic control, we would be happy to co-operate in obtaining the services of off-duty personnel on the basis of regular hourly rates."

His report says that traffic control is desirable at the church crossing but also at these other Coast highway intersections:

Avalon drive, Eureka Shopping center, Hewitt avenue, Crespi drive and at the Lutheran church in Rockaway.

All are uncontrolled intersections with considerable traffic flow entering and leaving the Coast highway, Tremaine notes.

The police chief says his men are free to give traffic control service at difficult intersections "only when our sources permit" and that the men are subject to call at other points if circumstances require it.

Tremaine adds that it is not practical or desirable to use police reserves because they are an emergency support of the police only.

If extra help is hired on an overtime basis at one location, police would be obligated to do this for all groups he notes in his report.

Guide Role Is Sought

be aware of plans, activities and fiscal operations."

The city council will vote tonight on a proposed policy governing expense account spending by councilmen and other city officials.

Councilman Fred Ballew is also the author of this policy. He states that the city needs clearer, more explicit rules.

If approved, councilmen would have to file receipts for meals and lodgings—showing dates, places and occasions. For entertainment expenses, names of persons or groups involved would be required.

Individual entertainment expenses for specific occasions, exceeding $15, need council authorization.

If auto mileage is more than 100 miles in one month, dates, destinations and functions attended would have to be listed.

If the distance traveled by a city official is more than 150 miles, the cost of the trip should not exceed the cost of commercial airline travel to and from that destination.

Also at council meeting this evening, the safety committee will recommend that a stop sign be installed at Crespi drive where it intersects Fessler avenue and at Fessler and Terra Nova boulevard.

Both intersections should have marked pedestrian crosswalks, according to a committee report.

The committee also is recommending that parking be prohibited on the west side of Grand avenue for 125 feet.

Teenager Asks...

By JOE BAVARESCO

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:

I am 15 years old and I have a buddy the same age and he is real difficult to understand. I don't want to offend him but he doesn't believe in deodorant or after shave—so he really offends a lot of kids, especially girls.

I got him a date twice and each time the girl told my girl about his "problem." Should I tell him? I'm afraid to lose his friendship. What should I do?

A Buddy's Buddy

Dear Buddy:

Usually I would say mind your own business but in this case you would be doing him a great service. Of course, try to be as diplomatic as possible. You can offend him. So pick the time and place carefully.

Don't tell your punches. Tell him what the girls say and what the other fellows say.

As for after shave, use it sparingly. Don't splash it on like it was water. You can also offend by wearing too much.

Treat this problem with kid gloves. Remember a good rule—tell him the way you would like to be told if the situation were reversed. But tell him, before somebody else does and really hurts his feelings.

Dear Mr. Bavaresco: I have a girl friend the same age and when she was 13 years old, (we are now 16) she was with the wrong crowd. She got into some trouble. Now she is a real good head and has really straightened out.

We go to the same school and have become real good friends. Last week some nosy neighbor saw me walking with her and called my mother and told her to watch me because I was in bad company.

My parents have now forbidden me to associate with her. They don't even know her and already have passed judgment on her. I don't think this is fair. We are good friends and have sewing and P.E. together.

What can I do? I can't just not talk to her. She has really changed and I don't understand why adults can't forgive and forget. What shall I do?

Confused

Dear Confused: Boy, have you got some neighbors! If there is something I can't stand, it's neighbors who mind everybody else's business. They are so dull and uninteresting themselves that they like to stir up trouble.

It is a shame people do not forgive. It is also a shame that people enjoy watching someone else who has made a mistake. They watch them suffer.

I think it is because they themselves are not true Christians or even true human beings. It makes them feel good to point at someone else and hurt them and their feelings.

Once you make a mistake, it is like becoming a target. You are fair play for anyone who fancies himself a judge.

As for your friend, the first thing you do is invite her to your home and let your parents meet her. Explain to them first that, sure she made a mistake, but give her a chance.

You know, I feel the best judge of a teenager is another teenager. And if your parents raised you right, they should feel that you know what kind of friends to pick and that they should trust your judgment.

Don't stop being this girl's friend. You are probably the best thing that has ever happened to her. She needs you and your friendship. Don't let her down.

Teen-Agers: If you have an issue or problem you'd like me to discuss, you may write me, Joe Bavaresco, in care of this newspaper.

Edgemar freeway, and was willing to meet Pacifica's terms.

Pacifica has taken no action on the matter except to study it.

Pacifica wanted to trade 66 acres west of Edgemar for 32 years in a triangular shaped piece of land formed by the junction of Edgemar and Skyline boulevard.

The present boundary line between the two cities at that point is jagged and cuts through streets and houses planned for the Fairmont subdivision.

Several utilities and services are involved in the land trade.

The stalemate has held up permanent utility hookups and roads to the new Franklin Delano Roosevelt school, which opened in September.

Children going to the school are from the Westlake terrace section of Daly City and the Jefferson Elementary School board has indicated it wants the school in Daly City.

for the vacated seat. However, observers believe personnel board chairman Al Polonsky is the front runner.

Polonsky has been seen at several council meetings recently and attended a study session of the council Monday night.

The council has set a special meeting next Monday to fill Verducci's post.

Another vacancy for the council to fill is expected sometime in the early part of next year. Councilman Bob St. Clair has announced his intention to move to Millbrae where he is building a new home.

St. Clair's term runs until April of 1966.

Daly City's Race Against the Weather

CONSTRUCTION crews work at a difficult angle on slope at Thornton beach to install a temporary storm drain pipe, replacing one that had been washed out by a slide three weeks ago. Work on the pipe moved ahead at fast pace in an effort to have it installed before a new storm, hit. Engineers have warned that without the installation and related fill work, a bad storm could undermine the area and topple four homes atop a cliff into the ocean. (Post-Times photo)

EARTH IS removed from a cliff along the upper part of the access road to Thornton beach from the Coast highway. Fill has been transported to an area below to help shore up the access road where slides have occurred in recent weeks. The last slide so undermined the road that it has been closed until the fill work can be completed. The fill also will ease the threat of slides under homes atop a cliff nearby, engineers say. (Post-Times photo)

port for the access road that runs to the beach parking lot. Officials fear that without the corrective work, a bad storm might cause severe slides that would undermine the foundations of the homes. (Post-Times photos)

Aztec Design Bank Approved

Plans for a new Aztec modern style of architecture branch of the Wells Fargo bank in the northeastern corner of the Linda Mar shopping center were approved last week by Pacifica planning commissioners.

Although commissioners expressed some concern that the architecture of the of Foothill college in Santa Clara county, would not blend in with other buildings in the area, Architect Robert Liles of San Francisco explained that bank officials want that type of building.

The new structure will have 4200 square feet of floor space and will be landscaped.

Pacifica now has two branches of the Bank of America and one office of the Eureka Savings Building and Loan company.

Plans of Earle C. Sidele to construct a new motel and restaurant on Esplanade in the Pacific Manor area were approved when commissioners voted to recommend that a two-acre parcel of land be rezoned for a neighborhood commercial zone. Councilmen must give final approval.

Mrs. Mary E. Day was given permission to establish a day school for 40 children in a house owned by her on Hickey boulevard in the new Fairmont area.

By a three to two vote, the common granted permission to Anderson's Liquor store on Paloma avenue to replace its present non-conforming sign with a new non-conforming sign that will extend 3.8 feet beyond the property line.

R. C. Wales was allowed to construct a home on a sub-standard sized lot at the northeast corner of Mirador terrace and Carmel avenue.

An application of the Karp Development company to build a 12-unit apartment building on Manor drive midway between Cabrillo highway and Skyline boulevard in the midst of a heretofore single-family zone was approved.

Commissioners scheduled a meeting January 13 with all apartment house developers building within the city to discuss means of upgrading standards for apartment house construction.

It was decided to review plans to develop the area of the former Frontier Valley into a residential and neighborhood commercial area at the same meeting.

An application to operate a sand quarry on the Old Coast highway right of way north of Pacific Manor was withdrawn.

Fish Saved From Tank In Pacifica

A dozen tropical fish who oughta be dead ain't.

They were rescued from a sedimentation tank in Pacifica's sewage disposal plant two weeks ago and now are swimming happily in a bowl at the home of plant operator William Hooper at 260 Loren avenue.

Paul Rushing, public works director, said the pisces—guppies, glowfishes, tetras and black mollies—were first discovered in the tank two weeks ago.

To reach it, he reported, they had to pass through street sewers, a heavy grate, a large propeller and a steel-bladed grinder designed to reduce meat bones to pulp. Then they were blasted into the tank.

Plant workers netted them and put them into clear water, after which Hooper took them home.

Let's 'Keep Kettle Boiling in Pacifica'

The red kettles will make their third annual appearance in Pacifica shopping centers Friday and Saturday.

The red kettle is a symbol of the Salvation Army's program of collecting money at Christmastime for the needy. It was first used by Salvation Army workers in San Francisco in 1894.

Since then, the written slogan, "Keep the Kettle Boiling," has become a familiar sight around the world.

The kettles in Pacifica will be manned by members of the city's civic and fraternal organizations from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday.

They'll be seen at the Eureka Square, Pacific Manor and Linda Mar Shopping centers.

Construction Dust Closes

Adobe Drive 2-3 Weeks

Adobe drive, now under construction, will be closed to through traffic for the next two to three weeks, Pacifica city engineer Al Roberts has announced.

Roberts said the street, though passable, has been closed because of an excessive dust and dirt problem to residents.

Traffic to the southern section of Linda Mar is being rerouted on a narrow road past Linda Mar school or over an unimproved street to Higgins way and back along the completed southern portion of Adobe drive.

With the aid of city contributions of gas tax moneys, the project was begun this fall — only to be delayed by heavy rains that turned the street into a sea of mud.

Roberts said that all underground facilities have been completed and that construction of curbs, gutters and sidewalks has commenced.

He said about half the rock base for the street has been laid and that with favorable weather the street could be substantially finished within three weeks.

Letters From Our Readers

TO THE EDITOR:

Mrs. Dolores Leonard, an officer of Mary's Help Hospital Nurses Alumnae association, and Mrs. Anne M. Murphy, publicity chairman, have told me of your kind and generous assistance in helping to publicize their neighborhood campaign for funds for the new Mary's Help hospital in Daly City.

I wish to take this opportunity to express my grateful thanks and appreciation for your splendid support of this important project.

Although the drive in St. Francis Heights and the Knolls area was conducted under the auspices of our Nurses Alumnae association, it was participated in by virtually every resident and organization in the neighborhood, under the general chairmanship of George Perry.

He recruited a relatively small corps of dedicated workers, to whom we are indebted, as we are to you, for the success of this effort.

Again, my prayerful thanks and all best wishes.

Sister Hermine Administrator Mary's Help hospital

WINDOW BROKEN

Eunice D. LeGrande of 587 Westmoor avenue in Daly City, reported that someone broke a window in the basement of her home. The damage was estimated at $20.

TO THE EDITOR:

At this time of the year, we of the Jewish Community Center of Pacifica wish to express our thanks to the other religious groups in the community who have made it possible for us to hold worship services and to run our religious school during the past year.

For all these helping acts and kind intentions, we express our boundless gratitude. We are very happy indeed to be living in a community where brotherhood among people of different faiths is expressed in deeds such as these, and not merely in words. We thank you all.

TIRES STOLEN

Two tires and wheels belonging to Kenneth Dean Hudson of 2 Coronado avenue in Daly City were stolen from a carport behind the building, Friday night, police reported.

Youngster Hit by Car

A nine-year-old Daly City boy suffered a bruised hip Friday afternoon when he was struck by a car at Carmela drive and Eastmoor avenue in Daly City.

Frank Muller of 165 St. Francis boulevard was treated at Kaiser Foundation hospital in South San Francisco.

The driver of the auto, Donald M. West, 16, of 1 Oaklawn drive, Daly City, told police the youngster had darted in front of his auto.

By LE PACINI

LAST WEEK we discussed the possibilities of psychological "damage" to kids participating in the extra-curricular, highly competitive "Little league" type of program.

We mentioned only in passing, however, organized competition within the elementary schools themselves as part of the educational program.

This subject has, over the past several years, been the core of at least a minor controversy among educators; the question being, should there be elementary school athletic competition as we know it on the secondary level?

Boiled down, it comes to this: would it be better for a fifth grader to play dodge-ball or be on the class softball team?

"Be on the class softball team but don't let him become an all-star," says Terra Nova Dean of Boys and Athletic Director Floyd Gonella.

Gonella, who has done intensive study in this area, takes the middle-ground in the controversy.

"Let them participate," says Gonella, "but not really compete at anything except at what you might call a low level. No big championship games in which a whole season's work can go down the drain in a couple of hours.

"No all-star teams. Physically, competition at this age level is not generally harmful. But it can be harmful psychologically."

In 1957, the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation definitely opposed anything stronger than kick-the-can for recreational purposes from the first through eighth grades.

"I believe this is too extreme an attitude," says Gonella. "Kids entering high school should have at least a passing acquaintance with various sports. Many kids coming to Terra Nova last year went out for basketball and football and literally couldn't dribble and didn't know simple rules because they had never been introduced to sports at the elementary age.

"Of course, there are areas which go overboard on preparation of athletes for high school.

"In Texas, they're playing tackle football in junior high. I don't believe in contact of any kind for sub-ninth graders. There is a certain small town in California that has no activity more exciting than a local movie house except the high school football team.

"Consequently, the locals go so far as to sell season box seats on the 50-yard line, provide the coach with a phenomenal budget to bankroll the team—and, of course, get the elementary kids virtually banging their heads when they're old enough to understand what direction their goal posts are in.

"Of course, this town is an exception, to say the least."

Gonella has a compromise solution to the problem. He believes that high schools should lend their facilities and coaching talent to elementary schools and that together, the factions should work out programs that would be agreed upon by all concerned. Everyone would benefit, he believes.

High school coaches would later receive students who were at least acquainted with the basics, and elementary school kids wouldn't be hit so hard so suddenly by the unencountered competitive spirit of opponents.

"After all," says Gonella, "competition is the American way of life. Our entire culture is built upon the exploits of pioneers, explorers, inventors—yes, even athletic heroes who have inspired youngsters. We live with competition and can't ignore it.

"Take a look at elementary school kids. They're always organizing, forming clubs, having foot races in the streets, choosing sides for anything from one-foot-off-the-gutter to sod fights.

"Elementary school kids on recess choose sides for one game or another. They're crying for competition. But sometimes these simple little home-made organizations turn into mobs and gangs. We should channel this competitive and aggressive nature of ours properly. Sports is the way to do it.

"And it would probably even be an assistance to discipline at the lower grade levels. Nothing makes a class or school more cohesive than a common interest such as sports provides. Tell a kid he's going to stay after school, and if he has nothing to do, anyway, he may not care. But if he knows he's going to miss being in a softball or touch-tackle game, or even watching it, then he may take a different attitude.

"In other words, mild competition won't, in my opinion, hurt at the elementary level if it is properly supervised in a nintramural type program."

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES: It's sometimes hard, during NPL basketball season, to imagine Terra Nova's varsity and "B" squad coaches, Rich Burt and Don Belton; Oceana's varsity and "B" team coaches, Dick Warne and Frank Lawlor, and El Camino's varsity coach, Gary Kenny, on the courts.

Burt played several years of professional baseball as an outfielder in the Detroit chain; Belton was an outstanding pitcher for the Oregon varsity; Warne, a pitcher, and Lawlor, a first baseman, were San Francisco State college diamond standouts, as was Kenny, who also did a fine job as a Gator chucker.

PRO NOTES: If Green Bay is losing a little more this year than it has in the past, it could probably be because of the suspension of Paul Hornung.

But not, particularly because of his running, passing or kicking (the Packers seem to have adequately replaced big Paul in these categories) but as a blocker.

During a summer coaching clinic, we are informed, Lombardi told colleagues that what he feared most was the loss of Hornung's great blocking in Lombardi's attack forces.

Together, Taylor and Hornung made Packer power sweeps devastating. Indications are now that perhaps Taylor's fine blocking isn't quite enough back there and in a game where one point's as good as 100, this could be as good an answer as any to Green Bay's slight loss of momentum.

Yes, corny but true. Football's still a game of basics.

Westmoor Seeks 2nd Cage Title

Rams Gain Choice as Favorites

THE WESTMOOR RAMS will be looking for a second straight basketball title in the North Peninsula league this season.

The Rams have been tabbed as pre-season favorites by sportswriters and coaches in the league.

Coach Tony Giamonna, starting his eighth season as Westmoor mentor, feels he has more overall strength this year than he did with his championship team of last season.

"I have more depth on the bench than I've had in the past few years," Giamonna said. "I can substitute more freely without hurting too much."

Missing from the lineup will be three of his first stringers, including his one-two scoring punch — All-League stars John Kelly and Steve Schmuck. The third player, guard Bruce Hix, has decided to sit out this basketball season.

Kelly was the NPL's top scorer and the league's unanimous choice for Most Valuable Player. He averaged 17.2 points a game last season and was the Ram's main rebounder.

Schmuck was the Rams' playmaker and leading outside shooter. Coming onto the courts with a reputation as a "dead-eye," several league teams doubled up on him to keep him from scoring.

Despite this, Schmuck was the seventh top scorer in the league with a 12-point average.

OF THEIR five first men on last year's team, the Rams placed three on the All-NPL team. The third member of the trio was forward Mike Morrison. He'll be back in the lineup this year.

Morrison, despite being only 5-9, was a big factor on the backboards last season and was always a scoring threat.

Giamonna said Morrison should be a repeater in the All-League selections this year if he plays up to his potential.

Also returning from last year's championship team is forward Bill Broughton, who averaged 6.6 points a game. Broughton was an honorable mention in the All-League selections by coaches.

"The scoring this year will be pretty evenly distributed," Giamonna said. "This team doesn't have a big scorer like Kelly. It could be anyone on a given night, maybe two or three."

Westmoor Cagers Top Vikes, 59-50

The Westmoor Rams dominated the boards to topple the Mills Vikings, 59-50, in the Rams' first outing of the season Friday.

Led by transfer student Jim Mason, the Rams coasted to an easy victory. Mason scored 21 points for high game honors.

High man for the losers was Bob South, son of Westmoor's principal, Glenn South. The Viking scored 15 points.

The Rams pulled away in the second quarter to lead at half time, 24-15.

Coach Tony Giamonna began substituting freely in the second half.

The Ram substitutes kept pace with Mills by matching the Vikings' 35-point second half output.

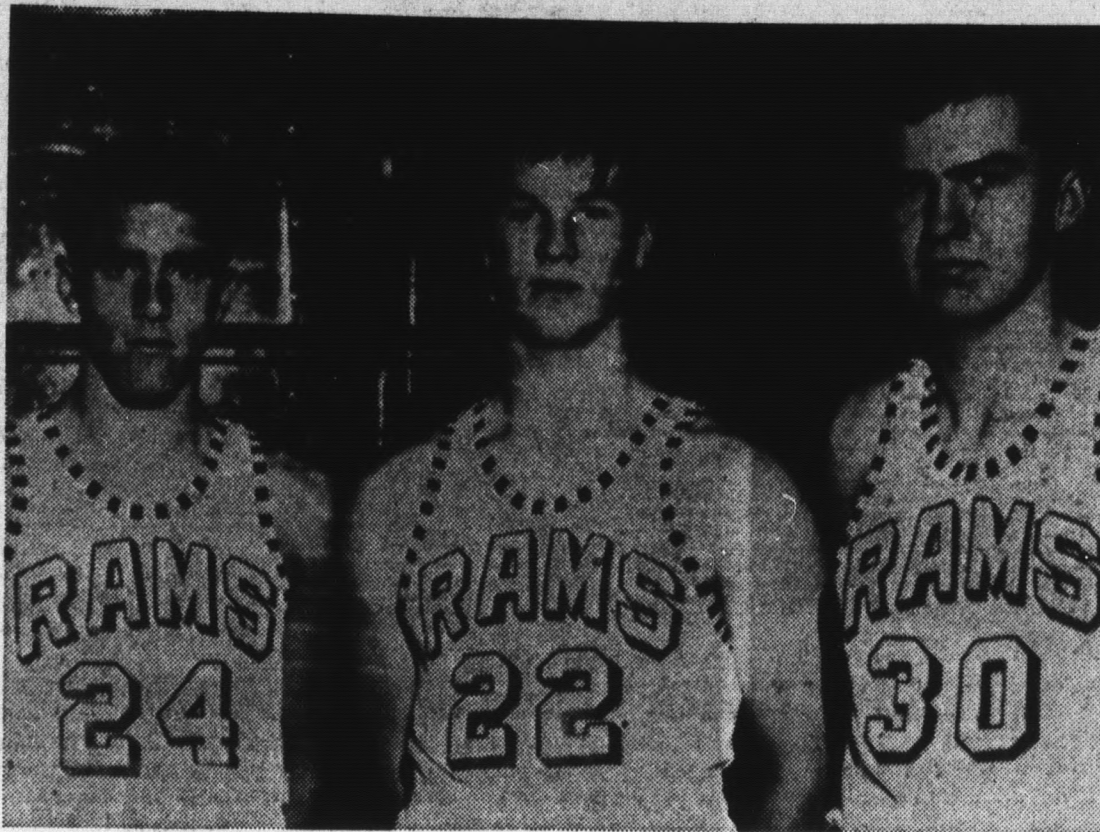

Giamonna said he was impressed with Mason and forward Mike Morrison.

In a lightweight contest, the Rams downed Mills 57-31. Tony Bento led the scorers with 14, followed by Dave Nelson's 11. Dan Pyaette and Steve Zarate scored nine apiece.

CINCINNATI, Ohio — The Cincinnati Wings of the Central Professional Hockey League, seeking their first win in their new home, acquired center Ken Laufman and right wing Ron Leopold Monday from the Portland Bucs of the Western League in exchange for center Sid Flimney. Leopold was assigned to Cincinnati for only one year under the terms of the trade.

RAMS, John Price, Jim Mason and Bill Vince figure big in coach Tony Giamonna's plans for a second straight title. Price was an all-leaguer on the lightweight team last year. Mason has been impressive at guard, hitting for 21 against Mills in the Ram opener last week. Vince, the sixth man on the Ram's team last year, will move into the starting slot at center. (Post-Times photo)

MIKE MORRISON
Veteran Forward

Rams 120's team, is John Putnam Jr., a center who will back up Vince. Bill Weurthner, who was on the varsity last year but didn't see too much action because he transferred late, will also be fighting for the position.

Joaquin Andrade, who moved up to the varsity from the 120's, and forwards Larry Seigel and Rich Adkins round out the Rams' team of seven seniors and eight juniors.

GIAMONNA SAID competition for the positions has been keen and the second stringers have been pushing the front runners.

Taking a look at the other teams, Giamonna figures Jefferson to be "pretty tough." Terra Nova, with a good deal of height could be hard to beat, he said.

The Westmoor offense will be flexible, Giamonna said. "I plan to mix it up a little." The Rams have the runners for a fast break, he added.

The team has been practicing working a man to man and zone defense. The Rams play Polytechnic High school of San Francisco today in a practice contest. They open the NPL season January 17 against Terra Nova.

'SCHOLARSHIP ATHLETIC'

Ram Grid Star Wins Top Award

Westmoor High school senior Bob Hansen has been chosen winner of the "Scholarship Athletic" for San Mateo county by the Northern California chapter of the National Football Foundation and the Hall of Fame.

Hansen was informed of the award by former Stanford All-American player Ernie Nevers, president of the chapter.

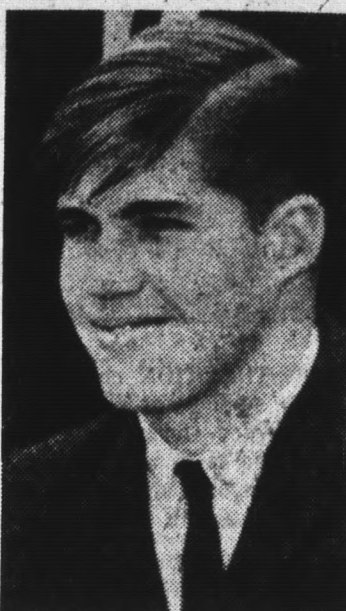

The Westmoor football star will be honored at the chapter's fourth annual awards dinner at the Peacock room of the Mark Hopkins hotel tomorrow night.

He will be accompanied by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Hansen of 806 Skyline drive, Daly City, his football coach, Pete Matisi, and a number of friends and teachers.

Hansen was a standout on this year's championship Westmoor Ram team, which compiled a 5-0 record in the North Peninsula league. The team's overall record was 9-1.

Hansen was the only player in the NPL chosen to both offensive and defensive teams in All-League selections by the NPL coaches last month.

He was a unanimous choice as tackle on offense and as guard on defense.

BOB HANSEN
Honored by Award

The "Scholarship Athletic Award" indicates outstanding ability on and off the athletic field, Nevers said.

Hansen has maintained a B average at Westmoor while taking a college preparatory course.

He hopes to major in math in college.

According to his counselor, Mrs. Doris Lindfors, he has taken a harder course of study than the normal college preparatory curriculum, including courses in physics, trigonometry and advanced algebra.

WITH THIRTEEN weeks gone by in the Junior 900 Masters league, who do we find currently leading the traveling circuit but our own beloveds from Serra Bowl. When the boys asked to be entered in the best junior loop in Northern California, we hesitated a bit after adding up the averages of our five strongest boys and seeing they were a far cry from 900 teamwise.

It's a simple story of determination and good coaching on the part of Brad Nelson and Billy Mack (a new addition to our staff). Win the league or not, the adults around Serra are proud as can be of the showing made so far by the boys. Congratulations are in order to Bob Cowan, Dan Gadd, Jim Leatherberry, Lou Rain, John Guerrataz and John Tomasello.

Young Frank McCarthy had the house on the edge of the seat in Amigos Mixed fives when he started with six strikes in a row. He finished with a fine 227. Gets a little tense, eh, Frank?

The Junipero Apartments team in the Tuesday Night-owls handicap shot a brilliant 948 with young Gary Mendoza banging out a fine 217-592 effort. Not bad in a 750 Handicap league—and they cry "break up the Yankees."

JUDY MAASBERG, secretary of the Tuesday Femme Fatales, carrying a very respectable 159 average, bowled a beautiful 223 game last week to lead all the girls for the weeks' scoring honors. Nice going, Judy.

In the Tuesday Friarettes, Laura Oleese led the pack with a nice 471 series. Secretary Marge Somdahl of the Morning Glories rapped out a 459 series to take the honors in that one.

Other leaders in the various leagues were: Bette Weissman in the Budget Busters with a fine 190-492; Helen Kenneally, 186-497 and Marilyn Hipschman with a 116 average shooting a nice 176. In the Thursday Domestic Engineers, Mary Rudorfer fired a solid 202 for high game honors, narrowly eclipsing Millie Wellings' string 201-493 effort. Maree Carlsons' 509 series, along with Stella Pina's 212 were high in the Wednesday Coffee Clatch.

In the Friday Holy Angels Trios, Barbara McCarthy, wife of our mixologist, Bill, shot a stunning 192 game. Not bad for a 133 average bowler. Not bad for anyone, actually.

Westlake Bowl

THERE WAS no doubt as to the "Bowler of the Night" last Monday as Rudy Wedina rolled a big 249 game and 647 series in the Native Sons league.

Highlights of the A-1 Nursery league last week were the many split converters. Angie Estone made the 5-7, Sandy Levine the 2-7, Linda Muzzloti the 6-7, Rita Decker the 3-10 and 2-7 and Mary Adams the 5-6-10 twice. High shooters were Betty Cooper with 187 and Flo Bertsch with 533.

Jeanne Anderson led the ladies in the Friday afternoon No-Tap as she won first prize of $7 with a 708 total. Second prize went to Alberta Siegal with 600 while Isabel McPherson's 650 game gave her third prize.

Neal Corbett rolled an even 200 game and a 571 series to take the top honor for the week in the Southgate Mixed Fives.

The week's leader in the Early Fives league was Bob Jenkins who rolled a 230 game and 589 series.

Les Reams received his Christmas present early as he rolled five consecutive strikes in the Friday Jackpot Sweeper and took home a check for $300. This marked the first time in over a year that the jackpot has been broken. The popular Friday night feature will continue weekly at 7 p.m.

ANOTHER early Christmas was celebrated by Jack McNally as he won first prize of $100 in the Weekly Handicap Sweeper. Under a new format, this weekly event with a guaranteed first prize of $100 starts each Monday and ends at midnight Sunday.

Ned Doyle and Walt DeLucchi tied for top honors in the Golden Gate Handicap league with a 573 total. Walt shot high game of 221 with Ed rolling a 199.

YWCA "Bowler of the Week" was Nancy Kraemer with 179 and 442.

Rose Marie Owens rolled high series in the Tea Timers league with 508. Emily Drago beat her by one pin as she shot 194 but Jo Record rolled a terrific 212 game to lead the league in that department. Split converters ran in pairs as June Wisecarver and Sue McDaniels picked up the 5-6-10 while Mildred Garrett and Carole Peschel converted the extremely difficult 6-7-10.

Joan Travers of the Woolworth team led the Starliters for the week with her 165 game and 481 series.

A big 598 series gave Joe Pacini high series in the Blue Monday Scratch league as he posted a 223 high game.

A terrific 241 game enroute to a 570 series gave Tony Torrisse top honors in the 815 Scratch league.

Sea Bowl

WINNER of the drawing for the turkey last week for those who bowled in either the 3-6-9 or the Friday Ladies No-Tap was Carol Allen. The fellows have a chance at winning a turkey also. A 3-6-9 holiday tournament is running from now until December 20. You can bowl it any time. Best three games out of four—handicap 2-3 of 200. The drawing for the turkey will be held on the above date at 9 p.m.

Preparations are now being made for our gala New Year's Eve party. Reservations are being accepted. We have a beautiful new room this year where our party will be held. It's very spacious, with loads of room for dancing.

League Results: Mermaids: Gay-Harris bowling on the D & J Music Vending team bowled a beautiful 213-592 for the game and series. Both top honors of the Keglerettes league were taken by Audrey La Fever with a 199-518. Ernie Fox took top place in series for the Park Variety and Hardware team of the Beachcombers league with a 183-535. Ron Jodsaas rolled the high game of 215. On the Yawner league Peggy Schlothman had the high series of 171-458. Irene Moresi had the high game of 182.

STARDUSTERS: Dessie Hart had the big series of 190-539. Barbara Paquette had the high game. Secretary Lee Nerli said they need two replacements. One 115 girl and one 122. So check your averages ladies. Lamar Rolling bowling on the Sea Bowl Classic really topped the league for both game and series with a 245-615.

Alleyholics: Phyllis Crisp was all bubbly the other day when she brought the league publicity in to me. Phyllis bowling on the Coast Radio and Television team swept the lanes clean for the high game and series with a 228-565. The game was her biggest ever.

Sea Bowlerettes: Carol Allen rocked the pins for the high series of 190-535. Betsy Gardner had the high game of 195. Secretary Carol needs some replacements due to some of the girls going to work. It's a handicap league so anything goes averagewise.

The Thursday night Ladies Scratch needs a 135-139 replacement. Ellie Payne is the secretary of this 6:45 p.m. league so if you qualify let us know. One of our league secretaries Robbie Ask of the Mermaids is the new mother of two baby boys, named Randy and Andy. She also has three other pre-schoolers all boys. The new little fellows are presently residing at St. Luke's hospital until they weigh in at five pounds. They are doing beautifully though.

Congratulations!

TEE ROLLING is congratulated by Westlake Bowl owner Johnny Swanson after she placed first in Northern California Bowling Proprietors of America Ladies' All-star competition. She compiled an average of more than 190 for 40 games. Next stop is the national competition in Dallas in January. First prize will be $5000.

Jefferson Is Upended By Balboa

A rally by Balboa High school of San Francisco last week in the last 40 seconds was enough to edge the Jefferson Indians, 48-45.

The Indians had led most of the way through the contest, holding a ten-point advantage at one time.

Four foul shots and a basket by John Norton put Balboa one point ahead with ten seconds to play.

Coach Mike Orlich said he was pleased with the Indians' performance in their first game of the season.

All-NPL forward Stev Willis netted 19 points and guard Gary Mendoza tallied 16 to pace the Indians. Mendoza hit 11 points in the first half and Willis 13 in the second half.

In a lightweight contest, Tom Houston paced the Indians to a 40-32 victory over the Balboans by scoring 14 points.

S.S.F. Loses To Bearcats

The San Mateo High school Bearcats built up a 32-18 half-time advantage over South San Francisco, and then coasted home for a 58-47 victory Friday at the Bearcat gym.

It was San Mateo's second straight win in as many outings. Jeff Thigpen led the Bearcat attack with 18 points. San Mateo's Petie Smith contributed 14 to the winning effort.

Coach Walt Rilliet was able to clear the bench in the ragged practice contest.

In the B contest, San Mateo also prevailed, 38-33.

New Indoor Track for GG Meet

The Cow Palace will have its own brand new indoor track for the upcoming board-track season, according to an announcement by Ed Diran, manager, and Jim Terrill, meet director of the Golden Gate Invitational.

The track is being built by the Cow Palace and construction is already under way. It will be finished well in advance of the second annual Golden Gate Invitational, which is set for the Cow Palace Feb. 15, 1964.

Cost of the track is estimated at $15,000 and will be the conventional 11-laps to the mile. Last year, the meet sponsors rented the Portland, Ore., track and had it trucked to the Cow Palace, where the largest crowd in west coast history saw the meet.

Cow Palace officials studied many of the nation's outstanding indoor ovals, before starting construction on this new track. The new boards will contain all the latest developments.

Terrill believes from looking at the blueprints and talking with the builders, that it will be one of the fastest and safest tracks in the nation. It certainly will be the most modern and will give the athletes an excellent chance to better the 1963 marks. Of course, the sprints and hurdles will still be run down the center of the track.

HOLIDAY TOURNEY

Entries Mount For Cage Meet

Seven teams had submitted entry blanks last week for the second annual Daly City Yuletide Basketball Classic.

Registration will continue for two more weeks for the holiday basketball tournament which is sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department.

As of Friday, these teams and captains are entered in the tourney:

Dons—Rich Moura and Claude Munday; Brissance AC — Paul Richards; Lucky Internationals II—Jim McGowan; Chargers—Fred Speinz; Huck Doons—Gary Ciolino and Bob Ryan, and the Kleppers—Bob Ruben.

Entry blanks are available at the boys' physical education departments of Westmoor and Jefferson High schools and at Recreation department facilities.

The tournament is open to all high school boys attending school in Daly City or who live in Daly City or represent a local youth group and who are not competing on varsity of 130s basketball teams.

The tournament will feature single elimination play with a consolation bracket for teams defeated in the first round.

All teams entered are guaranteed a minimum of two games.

Billiards Star Here

Ernest Morgan, the world's champion one-armed billiard player, will appear in an exhibition and instruction period at 7 p.m. Saturday at Westlake Bowl, owner Johnny Swanson has announced.

To allow more spectators the opportunity to see Morgan's demonstration, a Brunswick home-style table will be set up in the concourse of the bowl.

After a display of trick and difficult shots, Morgan will give instructions in the Westlake bowl's new "Q" room.

The nationally famous star says he foresees an "upgrading" of billiards — such the same as that experienced by bowling during the past 10 years.

Christmas and Cookies Go Together

CHRISTMAS CARING and sharing seems to be best expressed in gifts that we make ourselves. Whether it's something we sew or bake, the fact that we cared enough to make it ourselves makes it much dearer to the recipient. Thinking along these lines brings us to one of the most pleasant types of Christmas baking—cookies. By making a variety of shapes and flavors, we can present a gift box or tin as pretty to the eye as it is pleasing to the taste.

As for tins, the coffee cans with the snap-on tops are ideally suited for this purpose as they can be sprayed with paint and decorated with Christmas stickers or gold braid or rick-rack. You can just let your artistic nature take over and gussie them up as fancy as you wish.

Now for some cookies to help you fill these fine and fancy containers. First, we'd better make some gingerbread Christmas trees and we'll decorate them with a thin glaze.

GINGERBREAD TREES

- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. soda
- 1 tsp. baking powder
- 1 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 tsp. ginger
- 1 tsp. cloves
- 1/2 tsp. nutmeg
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup molasses
- 1 egg yolk

Sift together flour, salt, soda, baking powder and spices. Cream shortening, sugar and molasses. Add egg yolk; mix well. Gradually add flour mixture and mix to a smooth dough. Turn out on floured board or pastry cloth and roll out to 1/4-inch thickness. Cut into desired shapes. Bake on an ungreased cookie sheet 8 to 10 minutes. Cool on a rack. Makes two dozen cookies. Bake in 350-degree oven.

DECORATORS' GLAZE

- 1 cup sifted confectioner's sugar
- 3 1/2 tsp. water
- 1/4 tsp. vanilla

Blend powdered sugar, water and vanilla in a small bowl until smooth. Add a few drops of green food coloring. Spread on cooled cookies and decorate with candy cake decorations or cinnamon drops.

OF COURSE no collection of Christmas cookies

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

would be complete without a recipe for a fruit-nut drop cookie. And a long-time favorite is Hermits.

HERMITS

- 1 1/2 cups brown sugar
- 1 cup shortening
- 3 eggs (well beaten)
- 2 1/2 cups flour
- 1 tsp. soda
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 2 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 cup nuts
- 1 cup currants
- 1 cup raisins

Cream shortening and sugar. Sift together dry ingredients. Add the beaten eggs to the creamed mixture and blend in the sifted dry ingredients. Lastly, add the nuts, currants and raisins. Drop by teaspoonsfuls onto greased cookie sheet. Bake in 350-degree oven about 10 minutes or until nicely browned. Cool and store.

THERE ARE people in this world who think that no assortment of cookies is complete unless you have some chocolate cookies in the box. And I happen to be one of these people. Fortunately, Mrs. Mary Juster, who lives at 66 Lake Forest drive, Daly City, has given me just the right chocolate cookie recipe to add to our collection.

CHOCOLATE NUT DROPS

- 1 1/4 cups sifted flour
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. soda
- 2-3 cup shortening (soft)
- 1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
- 1 egg, unbeaten
- 1/2 cup milk (sweet or sour)
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 2 squares (2 oz., unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled)
- 1/2 cup nuts, chopped

Sift soda, salt and flour together in a large mixing bowl. Add the shortening, sugar, egg, milk and vanilla and mix until well blended. (If you are using an electric mixer, beat at medium speed about a minute and a half.) Next, add the melted and cooled chocolate and nuts. Beat about one minute more.

Drop by teaspoonsfuls on greased cookie sheets. Bake in 350-degree oven about 15 minutes. Cool. Makes about five dozen cookies.

I HAD A request to repeat this recipe for gumdrop cookies this year as they are so suited for Christmas and so easy to make and store.

GUMDROP COOKIES

- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 3 eggs (beaten)
- 2 cups brown sugar
- 1/4 cup evaporated milk
- 1/2 cup soft, small gumdrops, cut in half (no licorice)
- 1/2 cup nuts chopped

Sift the dry ingredients together. Blend in the eggs, sugar and milk and beat well. Add the dry ingredients together with gumdrops and nuts. Bake in greased square pan in 325-degree oven about 35 minutes. Makes about 40 cookies.

Last, but not least, comes a "no-cook" cookie. I received this recipe from Mrs. Dorothy Hair of 220 Lake Merced boulevard, Daly City, and she writes that they are great and they are surely easy to make.

BOOZE BALLS (no-cook cookies)

- 1 pkg. vanilla wafers (29-cent box) crushed
- 2 tbs. cocoa
- 1 cup powdered sugar
- 1 cup chopped walnuts
- 1/2 cup coconut
- 3 tbs. corn syrup
- 1/4 cup bourbon

Mix cocoa, powdered sugar, crushed wafers, nuts and coconut. Add corn syrup and bourbon. Mix well. Form into balls; roll in powdered sugar. Store in covered container, in refrigerator, a day or so to ripen. Makes 3 1/2 dozen cookies.

Court Will Conduct a Yule Party

A festive evening is planned by members of Court St. Mary Catholic Daughters of America at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, December 19, at the bi-monthly meeting of the court at Our Lady of Perpetual Help hall in Daly City. The court will hold its annual Christmas party. Mrs. Roy Thompson and Mrs. Mary Fitch are in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Maurice Clark, grand regent, said a program featuring dance groups from the Mason Kahn studios will be presented.

Community singing, entertainment and a gift exchange are planned. A dinner prepare under the supervision of Mrs. Thompson will end the evening.

Court St. Mary will join forces with Daly City's "Operation Santa Claus" and through the courts' social welfare program, will fill Christmas shoe orders for needy children in this area.

Members also are preparing Christmas gifts for patients at San Francisco General hospital, according to Mrs. Louise Bernard, social welfare chairman for the court.

Looks Like Chow Time

A PREVIEW TASTE of some of the goodies to be sold at a cookie and candy sale at Our Lady of Mercy church Sunday, December 15, is given Bobby Lavaysse and Susie Sariotti. Offering the treats are, from left, Mrs. Phillip Tomasello, chairman of the sale, and Mrs. Robert Lavaysse, Bobby's mother. The sale will be conducted after masses. Proceeds will be added to the church building fund.

Auction Is Planned by Coast Unit

The Christmas fellowships auction of the American Association of University Women, Pacifica Branch, will be held at 8 tonight at the home of Mrs. Kaye Reinhardt of 135 Nataqua avenue, Pacifica.

Each member is asked to bring a gift, preferably something she has made herself, to be auctioned off.

Proceeds from the auction are used to maintain the AAUW Fellowships fund, which makes it possible for women in the United States and around the world to continue their studies.

This year, the American Fellowships committee made 57 awards to women in 20 states.

The International Fellowships committee made 42 awards to women living in 28 countries.

The summer of this year saw the Fellowships Program launch a new project of summer study in the United States for six African teachers.

Donor Fashion Show Planned

"Younger than Springtime," is the theme for a donor fashion show to be given by Skyline B'nai B'rith women at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Lake Merced boat house.

Italian knits will be shown by Perugia Imports of San Francisco.

Models from the House of Charm will parade in the very "first" of springwear. Commentator for the evening will be Ruth Redell from Perugia.

Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Jerome Streich and Mrs. Elliott Kamler, chairmen, and their committee.

Arrangements for this evening are under the direction of Mrs. William Gitlitz and Mrs. Robert Stein. Transportation plans may be made with Mrs. Leo Tinkler at OV 1-4970.

All proceeds will go to the philanthropies of B'nai B'rith.

Rivera School Will Present Annual Fete

Fernando Rivera school's Christmas program, presented by the school glee clubs, will be held at 7:30 Monday evening.

A program of traditional Christmas and Hanukkah music will be presented under the direction of Lauren Abernathy.

Along with the glee clubs' presentations, the fourth grade classes will also participate. The classes of Diane Mack and Mrs. Josephine Corren have each written original choral verses that they will recite.

Frances Campbell's class will present a Christmas tree poem.

Instead of the traditional evergreen, Fernando Rivera has a large, modern Christmas tree decorated with bright, creative figures made of colored construction paper.

The tree and decorations were the work of Linda Pacagnella's art class.

YWCA Groups End Meetings

All clubs and classes sponsored by the San Mateo county YWCA will suspend meetings for the holiday season. The 1964 season will begin January 27, according to Y officials.

Here's Idea For Different Yule Present

Here's an idea for a different type of Christmas present—a CARE package to be sent to a hungry family overseas in the name of a friend or relative.

Tom Perry, regional CARE director, said Christmas gift cards acknowledging these gifts are available at the regional office at 444 Market street in San Francisco.

Requests for CARE packages to be sent overseas in lieu of Christmas presents should be made to the office no later than December 21.

A card sent to the donor for use as a Christmas present will read: "CARE has received a contribution in your name from (name of donor) to help the needy overseas."

Garden Village P-TA Will Meet

The Garden Village P-TA will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the multi-purpose room of the school.

Entertainment will be provided by the members of the Garden Village fifth and sixth grade Glee club. Refreshments will be served by room mothers.

AIRMAN OTIS L. WALKER, son of Mrs. Lillie M. Walker of 216 Rio Verde street, Daly City, has been reassigned to Chanute Air Force base in Illinois for training as an aircraft mechanical equipment repairman. He is a 1961 graduate of Mission High school in San Francisco.

Yule Party Planned by Edison P-TA

The Thomas Edison P-TA will hold a Christmas program, at 7:30 tonight in the school's multi-use room.

The program will open with a selection of songs by the fifth and sixth grade Glee club.

The school orchestra will present a program of instrumental music.

A novelty selection on the program will be the Bongo Beaters, students from the fifth and sixth grades.

Adding a touch of holiday spirit to the program will be a "Dickens Christmas Carol" performed by a fourth grade class.

Christmas Party Is Set by AAUW

The San Bruno branch of the American Association of University women will conduct its annual Christmas party Saturday night, starting at 8:30, in the American Legion hall in San Bruno.

The Bettucchi band will provide music for dancing. A buffet supper will be served at midnight.

Mrs. Orion Cowles is chairman of a decorating committee. Mrs. Jack Wiley is chairman of the buffet supper.

Gift Wrapping Lecture Slated

Mary Ardiolo, a professional gift wrapper, will offer a demonstration on her vocation at 2 p.m. today in the Pacifica City Council chambers in the City hall.

At 1:30 p.m. Friday, the Pacific Gas and Electric company will sponsor a film, "New Ideas for Holiday Entertaining," in the Pacifica City hall under the direction of Mrs. Louise Fletcher.

Both programs are sponsored by the Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation department.

Louanne's Datebook

By Louanne Heath

A DEFINITE MUST, for all who enjoy hearing a presentation of Handel's classic "Messiah" this season of the year, is the sixth annual presentation of the famous masterpiece by the Pacifica Community Chorus at 8 p.m. Sunday at Our Savior's Lutheran Church, Cabrillo highway at Rockaway Beach. Kenneth Au Young will direct.

Au Young has a fascinating background. He was born in Hong Kong and traveled to the United States to study at Millikin University in Decatur, Illinois. He came to the Bay Area to be an instructor at San Francisco State and became a much sought after tenor soloist. He has assembled an outstanding group of soloists for Sunday's performance. Dorothy Doherty, Jean Donahue, and Mimi Hagerty will perform the soprano segments; contralto honors will go to Eleanor Clemmons and Mildred Simons. Dale Emde will sing the tenor solos while Raymond Fong will perform the bass parts. Per Hillerstrom, the regular bass soloist for the chorus, will be missing from the program. Also unable to take part in this year's "Messiah" is John Adamson, organist, who is currently on a sabbatical leave in Madrid, Spain.

According to Mrs. David Marvin, publicity director for the chorus, in addition to the Christmas music, the choir with the soloists will perform several choruses and airs from the second part of the oratorio, concluding, traditionally, with the Hallelujah chorus.

The community chorus is sponsored by Pacifica's Park, Beach and Recreation commission and is using the Our Savior Lutheran Church by courtesy of the pastor, the Reverend T. W. Polster, and the congregation. Admission to the concert is complimentary, but, Mrs. Marvin has announced, an offering will be taken, during the intermission, to help cover chorus expenses.

REMINDER! Tomorrow is the Holy Angels traffic boys' hot dog sale. Chairman Mrs. Vincent Murphy reports that she has enlisted the help of all the traffic boys to assist her in making this one of the best hot dog sales ever.

AN UNUSUAL and very worthwhile program scheduled for Sunday afternoon is the annual Christmas program being presented by the San Francisco German School and Youth Choir.

This year's program will include a reenactment of the Christmas story and a play based on Grimm's fairy tale, Snow White. All will be presented entirely in German.

Lester and Roland Candee, Bobby Stack, Scharlotte Imhof and Vivian Bamberger, all of Westlake, will have roles in the plays.

The public is invited to attend as reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. Lester Candee, 697 Skyline drive, PL 6-7494. Tickets for adults will sell for $1.50, children over 10 will be charged fifty cents and children under ten will be admitted free during the advance ticket sale. According to Mrs. Candee, tickets will be available at the door of the California Hall on the day of the performance but adults will be charged $2 at that time.

Santa Claus will also make an appearance during the show, scheduled to begin at 5 p.m., and he will distribute gifts to the children in the audience.

CINDY LOU JOHNSON celebrated her eleventh birthday with a dinner party for eleven of her girl friends in the Lewis Johnson home, last Friday evening.

Mother, Ann, was the highly efficient charge d'affairs behind the scenes.

DEBBIE PETERSON, Darlene McCormick, Paul-ette Carr and Janice Hill, danced in the Children's Opera presentation of the "Emperor's New Clothes" at the San Francisco Opera House Sunday afternoon. The Westlake misses performed a segment concerned with various types of garb for His Highness.

It was the second performance in as many days for Janice who danced the evening before at the Moose Hall for the Annual Moose Lodge Christmas party. set by mialz from here on.

COOKIES and cakes will be on sale following each Mass at Our Lady of Mercy Catholic church this Sunday.

Mrs. Phillip Tomasello is chairman of the event which will feature a vast array of mouth-watering goodies all gaily wrapped and suitable for Christmas giving.

Proceeds of the sale, to be held in the parish hall, will go to benefit the parish school.

MRS. ROBERT WAGNER, who has been the chairman of the Westlake Catholic Women's Madri Gras fashion show, was the very surprised guest of honor at a baby shower this past week.

Members of the executive board met in the home of Mrs. Frank Burns, president of the association, for a board meeting and the shower. Delightful bit of decoration for the evening was the flocked Christmas tree in the softest shade of baby pink.

Mrs. Wagner, who will welcome her sixth child in the spring, has announced her resignation from the chairmanship of the fashion show because of her husband's transfer to a new position with his firm's offices in the East. Mrs. Frank Chiselli was appointed to fill the vacant post.

MRS. HOWARD LUZZI chairman of models for the Annual Holy Angels Spring fashion show, has announced an innovation in this year's show. For the first time teen-age boys will be included and they will be modeling formal wear from Selix.

Teen-agers Peter and Paul Frates and Tony Pinelli will show what the well-dressed young man will be wearing to the spring prom and Marsha Kane will model lovely fashions for the high school miss. Little Carol Kettle and Thomas O'Shea will exhibit fashions for the younger set.

Adult models for the affair will include, Mrs. Cornelius Dempsey, Mrs. John Flemer, Mrs. Raymond Leahy, Mrs. Thomas Lehane, Mrs. Raymond Lombard, Mrs. Leslie Moran, Mrs. Allen McManus, Mrs. Leslie O'Callaghan, Mrs. Edward Oliva, Mrs. James Pretti, Mrs. Daniel Riordan, Mrs. James Ryan, Mrs. Robert Simon, Mrs. Peter Wall, Mrs. Michael Surgue and Mrs. Roanald Chiappari.

I Want to Speak!!

Jeff Senators in Action

A bill to require training for members of the United States diplomatic corps was pushed through the senate last week in a surprise move by the Democratic party.

The Democratic party, that is, that participated in Jefferson High school's Fifth Annual Model Senate at the War Memorial Community Center in Daily City Wednesday and Friday.

The bill, designed to eliminate the "purchase" of ambassadorships, would require that members of the diplomatic corps be taught the languages of the country in which they serve.

The measure was one of four passed by the teen-age Jefferson senators. Two bills were defeated.

The other successful bills were: Money in the U.S. foreign aid program would be given to countries to encourage birth control.

Refusal of firms to hire because of race, religion or national origin or to discriminate in contract agreements for the same reason would be illegal. Companies would be subject to a fine.

The Federal government would exercise more control over mail-order houses selling weapons.

The defeated bills included the federalization of all banks and the lowering of the voting age from 21 to 18 for servicemen.

Students taking part in the model senate began studying for their roles early in the year by corresponding with their assigned senators and reading books and newspaper articles about them.

Taking key roles in the program were Evelyn Morabe as Sen. Mike Mansfield, majority leader; Elfi Dahme as Sen. Everett Dirksen, minority leader, and Judy Reed as Sen. Thomas Kuchel Republican whip.

For Majority leader Miss Morabe, it was the third year as a senator. She did a complete turnabout from the role she played last year when she acted as Republican minority Leader Dirksen.

"I wanted to see what the parties were about and what they stood for," she said.

Minority leader Dumont was in his fourth year. He has been a Republican each time. Last year he was Republican Whip Kuchel.

Teacher Frank Kane was chairman of the model senate program. Rudi Tretten advised the Republicans and Ed Cereghino advised the Democrats.

Josiah Beeman, president of California Federated Young Democrats, presided over the Senate in the two sessions Wednesday and Friday.

Bills were drafted early in the school year by the model senators and then sent to committees where they were studied, and then killed, amended or passed.

The students were given a free rein to speak on the Senate floor, much in the manner they felt their counterparts would speak.

SEN. ESTES KEFAUVER, played by Tony Sarasua, delivers a speech against a bill outlawing job discrimination. The Southern bloc, led by Shirley Murphy as Sen. Harry Byrd, could not muster enough support to defeat the bill. Senate Page Madeline Martinelli holds the microphone. (Jeff High photo)

SENATOR THOMAS KUCHEL, played by Judy Reed, was one of the leaders in the Model Senate as Minority Whip. The students corresponded with their counterparts to learn more about them. Westmoor Whirl

By SHERRY ROSEN

WARM WOOLEN MITTENS have of necessity hit the high fashion list at Westmoor these days. Long-ignored parkas and fur linings have suddenly emerged from among the mothballs, accompanied by warm headgear and gloves.

Ram females have solved the touchy problem of shivering shins by recalling brightly colored tights to the hilltop scene, while boys who outwardly defy the icy winds have been observed peeling off three layers of sweaters before facing their classmates.

All that's missing from the wintry Christmas scene is some snow, and that Eastern-bred phenomenon is unlikely to reappear so soon. Nevertheless, Yuletide festivities are beginning to stir once again at WHS, and there is already a holiday atmosphere.

Decorated boxes which now stand yawningly empty in the hallway will soon be overflowing with gifts of clothing and canned food for the needy. Candy canes and holly call everyone's attention to the upcoming annual senior dance, this year entitled, "Christmas Magic."

AROUND AND ABOUT: Books are being momentarily forgotten as Rams pour into the WHS library to gaze at the veritable art gallery on exhibit. Currently being displayed are montages created by students and the works of Bay Area artist Dave Moon.

Tickets are now on sale for the yearly affair that brings together the Biggest Men on Campus in all their rugged, masculine glory: the Block "W" dinner. Several seniors recently sweated through another round of that nightmare of nightmares, the college board examinations. Other self-appointed martyrs will take their tests in January.

CIRCLES OF SYMPATHY, and triangles of band-aids go out with our best wishes to geometry teacher Donald Kepper, who is roving the campus these days with a broken foot. If it's any consolation, it couldn't have happened to a nicer guy.

Terra Nova Topics

By CATHIE REED

THE TIGERS are at an awkward stage. It's after Thanksgiving vacation and before the big Christmas-New Year's vacation, with no adjustment periods in between except the itty bitty weekends.

The cold spell, which affected Terra Nova, made a remedy necessary. The physical education department, to keep us warm and happy, thought up folk-dancing. The remedy was very successful. It kept everybody warm—or at least so out of breath they couldn't complain.

What with the cold and the construction site air hammers, the teachers don't seem to be their jolly old selves. Some Terra Novans haven't gotten over the shock of report cards yet, but the teachers scowl hard enough to make it the end of a quarter.

We usually have such a happy faculty! They're always playing tricks on each other, or getting married. It's difficult to understand. It must be the air hammers.

CONSTRUCTION, which never seems to end, is underway on a new gym for the girls only. Preparations are also being made for a third story. The "open space" between the second and third levels (a matter of buildings, not stories) looks like a lumber yard with big square gopher holes everywhere.

The gopher holes are for future pillars to support the top story. Running to classes is like playing leap frog and with a pile of books, that's a lot of fun. It also promotes gallantry in the boys, who span the holes with stray boards—like Raleigh.

AND CHURCH ACTIVITIES OF DALY CITY,
COLMA, PACIFICA AND SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO

Westside to Hold Annual Program

The Sunday School of Westside Baptist church will present its second annual Christmas program at 7 p.m. Sunday in the church.

Theme of the program is "The Heart of Christmas." Frank Navarro and Wendy Morrison will depict—through puppets—a grandfather and granddaughter. The grandfather explains to his kin the meaning of Christmas.

All Sunday School departments with the exception of the nursery division will participate.

In addition, each child will be asked to bring a gift of canned food that will be turned over to the needy.

At the 11 a.m. worship hour Sunday, the Rev. A. David Donnelly, pastor of Westside, will discuss: "There's Good News Today."

The Mid-Week Prayer and Bible Study Hour will meet at 7:45 tonight in the Navarro home at 203 Carmelo lane, South San Francisco.

Holy Angels Parish Offers Yule Pageant

The children of Holy Angels parish will present a four-act Christmas pageant entitled, "And God Created the Stars," December 20 and 21 at 8 p.m. in the parish hall at 107 San Pedro road, Colma.

This is an original script written by Mrs. David Campbell who is also the choral director.

Co-ordinating other features of the pageant will be Mrs. John Bordman, Mrs. Thomas Reardon, Mrs. Anthony Lizzio and Mrs. Eugene Camous.

Tickets may be obtained by phoning Mrs. Daniel Darragh at PL 5-6121.

Proceeds from this event will benefit the building of the Novitiate to be constructed for the Order of the Holy Infant of Jesus.

Bar Mitzvah To Be Noted

David Siegel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Siegel of 11 Parkside avenue, Daly City, will celebrate his Bar Mitzvah at Temple Judea's Sabbath evening services Friday at 8:30 at the House of Lawton in San Francisco.

Rabbi Herbert Morris and Cantor Harold Wachter will officiate.

Mrs. Siegel will perform the candle blessing and she and her husband will host the Oneg Shabbat after the services.

Group Officers To Be Installed

New officers of the American Lutheran Church Women will be installed Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Westlake Lutheran church.

The new officers are: Mrs. Dorothy Greenstrand, president; Mrs. Lois Kornahrens, vice president; Mrs. Margie Ritzman, secretary; Mrs. Lucille Laingen, treasurer; Mrs. Marilyn Robertson, secretary of education and Mrs. Dorothy LaChance, secretary of stewardship.

The ladies will present a Christmas gift of additional china to the church. Further donations for the gift may be made to Mrs. Greenstrand. Pastor Kenneth Hansen will give the Bible study for the evening. Hostesses are Mrs. Marion Phelps, Mrs. Harvor Vinson and Mrs. Marilyn Morrison.

'Messiah' To Be Sung

The Pacifica Community Chorus will offer its annual performance of Handel's "Messiah" at 8 Sunday night in Our Savior's Lutheran church. The public is invited.

ORT Chapter Holds Chanukah

The celebration of Chanukah and an exchange of gifts will highlight a meeting of the Central Peninsula chapter of ORT at 8:15 p.m. next Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Stewart Feldstein, 906 Larkspur drive, Millbrae.

Traditional homemade Chanukah refreshments will be served. Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Bernard Abram at JU 8-0576 or Mrs. Jerome Karp at PL 6-3264.

JOIN STAFF—Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Foreman are members of the Westlake Community Baptist church staff. They are in charge of music and will work with youth groups. The Foremans have been active in the First Baptist church of San Francisco where Mrs. Foreman was a soprano soloist and Foreman sang and directed the choir at times.

Businessmen's Gospel Chapter Is Organized

A new chapter of Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship International is being formed by businessmen in San Mateo, San Francisco and Marin counties. It is called the Tri-County chapter.

The second monthly meeting of the group will be held at 7:30 a.m. Saturday in the Starlite Hofbrau at 501 Spruce street in South San Francisco. A "working man's" breakfast will be served.

The speaker will be the Rev.

B'nai Israel Dance Slated

The annual "Festival of Lights" dance to be given by the men's club of Congregation B'nai Israel on December 21 is in celebration of the Chanukah holiday which commemorates man's first struggle for religious freedom and lasts for eight days.

This will be the last major event by any of the Congregation groups prior to removal of the Temple from the present location, 67 Los Banos Ave., Daly City. The oldest Jewish Congregation on the Peninsula, having served Jewish families for the past 55 years, is to be torn down to make way for the Juniper Serra freeway.

The dance will be held at the newly remodeled Colombo Hall, at 15 San Pedro road and will feature Ray Clarfield and his orchestra. Food and refreshments will be available throughout the evening.

The public is invited to attend, according to Mrs. Sara Goldberg, publicity. Tickets at $1.25 a person may be obtained by calling PL 6-8644 and PL 6-7522.

Door prizes will be given away during the evening including an all expense paid week end (3 days and 2 nights) for 2 people at the Riviera Hotel in Las Vegas. All proceeds from the dance will benefit the building fund.

Chanukah Party Is Scheduled

The Men's club of Temple Judea will sponsor a Chanukah party at 7 p.m. Sunday in the Lake Merced Boathouse. Parents and children are invited.

A clown and a ventriloquist will be included in an entertainment program. Reservations and further information may be obtained by calling PL 5-0194 or JU 7-8910.

Four Choirs To Sing at Broadmoor

The four choirs of the Broadmoor Presbyterian church in Daly City, will present a program of Christmas music Sunday at 7 p.m.

Delmar Severy will conduct the adult, youth and junior choirs. Mrs. Dorothy Spratt will direct the Cherub Choir.

Guest organist is Mrs. Gloria Mattson Sperber, formerly the regular organist of the local church. The new Allen Organ will be used, providing added interest to the music.

Among the twenty-two selections to be sung are some of the unusual nature including a Scotch Carol entitled "What Strangers Are These?" and a Japanese Carol entitled "Christmas Carol."

The pastor of the local congregation, Rev. Herbert Tweedie, will speak at the two Sunday morning services at 9:30 and 11 a.m. with Christmas music and a sermon on the subject, "What Christmas Really Is."

Infant care is provided on Sunday mornings for babies and small children with the older children in the two sessions of Sunday school.

Youth Group In Hayride

The Luther league of Westlake Lutheran church will join with other league youth groups for a hayride and caroling Sunday. The young people plan to leave from Bethlehem Lutheran church at 7 p.m.

Nine families were received into the church last Sunday. A reception will be held for the families tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

They are: Mr. and Mrs. John Dunn, C. W. Fox, Richard and Sue Harper, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Keenan, and children Stephen and Susan, Mrs. Frank De Martini and Richard De Martini, Mrs. Ruth Noyes, Mr. and Mrs. William Schuler and children, Gail and William Jr., Mrs. Donald E. Schulz and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Walton.

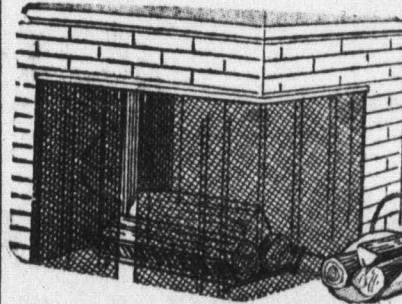

Pastor Kenneth Hansen has chosen as his sermon topic, "Is He the One?" for the worship service at 11 a.m.

BETTER BUSINESS

Jewelry Gifts Are Favorites At Christmas

By LORENE BEASLEY
Editor, Better Business Bureau's "Barometer"

THE BRIGHTEST star on many a Christmas tree is a diamond ring. The holiday season is second only to June as the favorite wedding date, with Christmas brides growing more numerous each year.

Whether it is a wedding or engagement ring, or a special Christmas gift, it is a gift that must be selected with thought and care and should be purchased with the aid of a reliable jeweler who can give expert advice.

With the advent of the Christmas season, the seasonal swindler becomes very active. As in other lines of business, the majority of jewelry dealers are fair and honest, but there is always a minority of dealers who take advantage of the trusting customer, especially of the male buying an engagement ring.

A Better Business Bureau shopper checking on an ad which offered a one-half carat diamond ring for $9.50 and invited "comparison" with rings offered generally at double the price was told the ring was the only sample on hand and not available.

The salesman pointed out a large, very noticeable flaw in the diamond and proceeded to show other more expensive rings. Such a selling device is known as "bait advertising," or the alluring offer to sell something which the advertiser does not sincerely want to sell, tries not to sell or deliberately avoids selling.

Buying Christmas jewelry wholesale appeals to the busy executive who has many gifts to buy. Wholesale prices are usually wholesale bunk but the busy executive does not stop to think that it is impractical for any store to maintain a policy of selling retail at wholesale prices.

PROFESSIONAL promoters distribute Christmas catalogues offering articles at fictitious wholesale or discount prices. The non-arrival of much of the ordered merchandise through such catalogue schemes is blamed upon the Christmas mail confusion.

Fake jewelry auctions do a huge business during the holiday season. Junk jewelry is sold at exorbitant prices by skillful auctioneers who excel in putting across their wild claims and misrepresentations.

It is quite common for imitation or simulated stones to be sold as natural stones even though the Federal Trade Commission Trade practice rules for the jewelry industry has ruled that the name of any precious or semi-precious stone applies only to the natural mineral so designated and cannot be used when any gem stone is pulverized and molded or otherwise processed. It is no Longer a natural stone after such a process but is a man-made article made to resemble the natural stone.

The deposit scheme is another trick of the unscrupulous jewelry dealer. The salesman obtains a deposit on the false assurance to the customer that it will be returned if he so desires it.

False advertising is always up during the holiday season. Watches, a favorite Christmas gift, are often advertised as "water resistant and water protected" when neither is true. They are also falsely advertised as insured for twelve months against any kind of breakage, including all parts, crystal or watch band. Claims of "gold plated and gold filled" watch cases are deceptive because the gold deposits are merely electrolytic applications and are not substantial surface platings mechanically applied.

Watch out for the Christmas promotional literature with fictitious cut regular retail prices of watches consisting of 25 jewels. Many of these watches have actually a 17 jewel movement to which is added a device containing 8 so-called synthetic jewels which are not functional.

Watch out for fictitious comparative prices. Jewelry is often advertised with two prices; one the sales price and the other a fictitious high price, indicating a claimed valuation. The difference in the two prices is a fictitious saving.

The answer to all of this is when you buy jewelry pick a reliable and well-informed jewelry dealer—one whom you can trust!

ROUND THREE in the Jefferson Elementary school district's attempt to formulate a new transportation policy ended last week without a decision—a not entirely unexpected development.

It was the second session of the board in succession in which one of the hottest of hot potatoes was bandied about among board members and between the board and a full house of district residents.

The issue of whether or not to transport pupils out of their neighborhoods to achieve a racial balance in schools will go into round four Monday night and if the second and third rounds are any clue, the audience Monday should spill right out of the board's meeting room.

The potato first got hot October 28 when trustee O. Wayne Douglas, without any prior notice of what he was about to do, introduced a motion that would establish a new board policy on bus transportation for pupils.

In effect, it would rule out transporting students out of their neighborhoods so that a racial balance could be achieved in the district's schools.

The proposal caught other board members by surprise. It was immediately opposed by District Superintendent Richard Foster who contended that its wording was the same sort of terminology that had been the basis of violent dispute in other cities.

The proposal also was opposed by trustee Mrs. Katherine Mullen who said it violated state policy.

As the board usually does when new policy is proposed, it decided to think over the proposal and perhaps come to a decision at its next meeting.

Well, the fireworks started at the next session, November 4, when a fair-sized group of residents from the district, numbering perhaps 25 persons, attended the meeting. Four of them asked to be heard and all four said Douglas' proposal should not be supported.

Because of this opposition and because their own members were divided, the board again decided to defer a decision on the policy and again think it over.

This move, however, came only after Douglas warned against sweeping the whole thing under a rug.

Because of the death of President Kennedy, the next regularly scheduled meeting of the board was cancelled and trustees met, instead, last week.

The three-week interval between meetings apparently gave the citizens of the district—and the members of the board as well—ample time to mull this bus business over.

For it prompted, last week, the largest outpouring of district's residents we've seen in the past year (more than 50 showed up) and it also evoked some additional thinking on the part of board members.

The opposition voiced was generally along the same lines as before.

However, for the first time since Douglas introduced his motion six weeks ago, someone came right out and so much as said that the district has de facto segregation in its schools.

Harry Freiberg of 30 Village lane, who had appeared at the previous meeting of the board, declared:

"The question is not whether we bus students but whether or not we have de facto segregation. Almost everyone knows that Westlake and St. Francis Heights are almost 100 per cent white.

"I don't know whether or not we should use busing or whether we should use other techniques to achieve integration in our school district. . . . I am afraid that if we don't calm down a little on the subject that people will believe our school buses have horns on the outside, not inside."

This facet of "calming down" also was touched upon by board president Thomas Noonan who noted:

"I think this has gotten into an emotional area that is not within the proposal. Certain nerves have been struck. I resent highly that this thing has been placed squarely on the schools and that we are being asked to bus students away from their neighborhoods."

AS WE see it, the issue seems to have reached this status:

The board, by and large, doesn't like the idea of hauling pupils out of their neighborhoods just so that all of the district's school will have a racially-balanced enrollment.

From the statements they've made, trustees are greatly concerned that this stand has been misinterpreted to mean that they favor de facto segregation.

That they do not have been repeatedly emphasized by both Douglas and Noonan and in a way, at times, that has indicated that the unspoken charge has struck a highly sensitive nerve.

For example, in an amendment he offered to his policy last week, Douglas proposed that the opening sentence read this way:

"In the establishment of school attendance areas and the assignment of pupils thereto, it is the policy of the board that everything possible shall be done to eliminate the segregation of children on the basis of ethnic, cultural, racial or religious distinctions."

But Douglas stuck to his guns when it came to the basic issue involved when he declared in his amended motion: "But the board does not favor transporting pupils as the solution to segregation in any form."

ON THE OTHER side of the fence, the opposition to the proposed policy seems to have firmed up around the contention that although "busing" may not be the ideal solution to segregation, whether it exists or not, it is a solution and is the only one advanced to date.

For it is the contention of those who favor "busing" that the Jefferson district does have a problem and that in this current era of racial turbulence, something should be done.

When round four gets under way Monday night, Douglas can be expected to comment upon a significant development last week that, in effect, strongly supports his position.

For in a poll released Wednesday, school superintendents from throughout the state said by a margin of 14-1 that they favor keeping the traditional policy of neighborhood schools and that school boundary policies should not be changed.

One Injured In Four Car DC Accident

A Daly City man was arrested for drunk driving Friday night after causing a four-car accident during the commuter rush hour at Market and Mission streets in Daly City, according to police.

One woman, Mrs. Bernard Duane Norris, of 296 Juanita avenue, Pacifica, was injured and taken to Peninsula hospital for treatment.

Arrested was Matthew M. Russo, 48, of 599 Lausanne avenue, Daly City.

Daly City Police Officer Arthur Glass said he began to follow Russo after Russo had screamed to a halt at a signal light at School and Mission streets.

When the light changed Russo started out fast, signalled a left turn and then suddenly changed lanes and continued straight on Mission. Glass started his warning light to pull Russo over to the side of the road, but Russo did not heed.

Russo's car was swaying erratically, Glass said.

At Mission and Market Russo hit one car and set off a chain reaction, Glass said.

Mrs. Norris was a passenger in her husband's car.

Also involved in the accident were Richard A. Cardoso of 560 C street in Colma and Leonard A. Mjehovich of 310 Wildwood avenue in South San Francisco.

SSF Council Adopts City Master Plan

The South San Francisco council has adopted a general plan for the city's development after noting only one protest.

The Tanforan Co. Ltd., telegraphed an objection to being included as an executive-commercial area, saying the best use of the property is as a race-track.

A petition from citizens to annex the inhabited portion of Westborough was received by the council, and forwarded to the planning commission.

The council also moved to notify the county's new Local Agency Formation commission of its intent to annex the hillside area.

All bids for repainting and repairing city hall were rejected, and new ones are to be sought.

The council was told there was some apparent confusion regarding specifications, and that all offers were approximately 15 per cent higher than the amount budgeted for the work.

Lowrie Paving company was awarded a contract for a storm drain on Linden avenue, after submitting the low bid.

A "Santa Claus building" at Maple and Grand avenues, proposed by local merchants, was given council approval, as was a Camp Fire Girls' request for permission to conduct their annual candy sale.

Public hearings of the Baden crossing lot annexation, on the Devincenti annexation, and an ordinance on traffic regulations, were continued to the council's meeting Monday night.

Blanket Fire Extinguished

Daly City firefighters responded to two minor house fires within eight minutes last Wednesday afternoon.

At an apartment occupied by Inez Johnson of 239 Price street, firemen extinguished a smoldering electric blanket. Damage to the blanket, a bed, a rug and flooring was estimated at $250.

At 587 Westmoor avenue, combustible material left to a hot water heater in a garage caught fire. The flames were quickly extinguished and damage, firemen reported, was negligible.

Steve Bond of 2455 Geneva avenue, Daly City, reported to police last week that someone had stolen a flashlight from his auto, parked in front of his home.

A Library 'First' Is Under Way

The first library in the Jefferson elementary school district for children in grades one through three is now in use at Woodrow Wilson school.

Above teacher Betty Lukins helps from left to right, Richard Matism, Linda Cadena and Renee Rogers.

The library, tenth in the district, was opened to students November 26. The other nine libraries are for use by students in fourth to eighth grades.

Supervision of the new library is performed by P-TA mothers who volunteer their time.

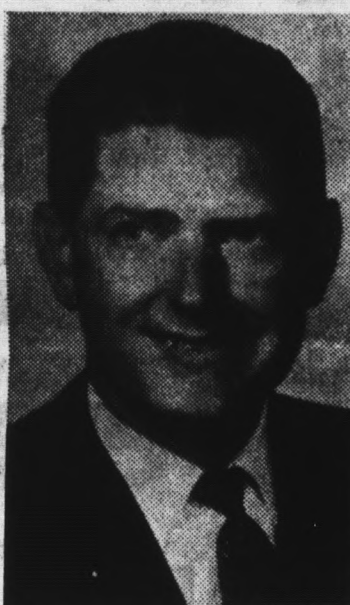

Mothers who have been serving as library assistants include Mrs. Shirley Miller, Mrs. Maureen Taylor, Mrs. Patricia Cravotto, Mrs. Juanita Perada and Mrs. Clara Kratochvil.

Hours are from 10 to 12 a.m. and from 1 to 1:30 p.m. daily, according to Robert E. Muller, instructional materials consultant for the district.

School classes are taken into the library once a week for one period. During that time, students select books and check them out.

The books, geared to the first-to-third grade level, are from the Jefferson Elementary school district's Instructional Materials center.

GUIDO BARTOLA

Bartolo to Head B of A Colma Branch

A new manager and vice president, Guido Bartolo, has been named to head the Colma branch of the Bank of America, it has been announced by R. A. Peterson, president of the bank.

Bartolo will fill a vacancy caused by the death of John Ferrari.

A Bank of America employee since 1937, Bartolo for the past year was vice president and lending officer at the Day and Night office in San Francisco.

He began his career at the bank's Richmond branch and was first promoted to officer status in 1947.

He transferred to the Concord branch in 1954 as assistant manager and three years later was named manager of the Vallejo commercial branch.

In 1961, he was promoted to assistant vice president in the loan supervision department at the San Francisco head office and the following year transferred to the Day and Night office as vice president.

Pacifica Man Pleads Guilty

John Dennis Sullivan, 65 Santa Rosa avenue, Pacifica, appearing in North County Municipal court last week for a jury trial on assorted driving charges, entered a plea of guilty and ended the trial before it started.

Sullivan pleaded guilty to drunken driving, having an open bottle of alcoholic beverage in his car, two counts of driving with a suspended license, and being drunk in and about an auto.

He is to appear January 7 for a probation report and sentencing, reported Assistant District Attorney James Browning.

CLOTHES STOLEN

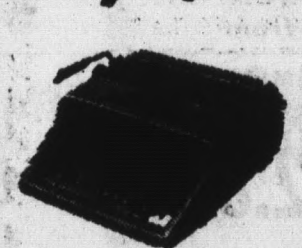

Judith Hannah of 21 Crestwood drive, Daly City, reported to police over the weekend that someone had stolen clothes from her clotheslines.

VANDALISM REPORTED

Vaandals set fire to garbage cans and racks at Vista Grande school over the weekend, Daly City police reported.

AT JEFFERSON

Team-Teaching Hall Approved

By LOUANN HEATH

Plans for a new classroom building at Jefferson High school that will include a team teaching lecture hall have been approved by the Board of Trustees of the Jefferson Union High school district.

The team teaching facility will be the first of its kind in the district.

Plans for the new building were outlined by Corwin Booth of Falk and Booth, architects for the district.

Booth explained the design of the new classroom building which will house, in addition to the team teaching lecture hall, four classrooms and two rooms that may be incorporated into the hall for special activities and lectures.

A small audio-visual storage room, a supply area and restrooms also are included in plans for the building. It will be constructed adjacent to the school cafeteria.

This phase of construction, according to District Superintendent Edward D. Morgan, will conclude current improvements being undertaken at the Jefferson plant. The building scheduled for completion by February of 1965.

Booth announced to the board that final working drawings will be presented to board members in March.

Work involved in the reconstruction of Jefferson High school was criticized by Mrs. Anna Eason, member of the board, who deplored what she called were unsightly piles of fill on the turf in front of the school buildings.

Her remarks prompted Booth to explain that work on landscaping is once more underway.

"We are not proceeding as rapidly as we would like in this matter," Booth said, "but there have been problems with subcontracting the work. A new firm has now entered the project and work is again underway."

Construction at Jefferson will result in a new bus garage and service center, a data processing center and a printing office for the district.

Two new laboratories will be added to the school's shop building and a choral room will be added to the music building, Booth reported.

Annex Areas To Be Served By Daly City

Daly City has instituted proceedings to withdraw land to the city in the Mary's Help hospital Pedemonte annexations from the jurisdiction of the Colma Fire district and the Colma lighting district.

The two areas will be served by Daly City departments.

In another action affecting recently annexed territory, the City Council set a public hearing for January 13 on the complete rezoning of Bayshore.

The council also:

Approved a use permit for a cocktail lounge with limited food service at 61 St. Francis Square. The use permit had drawn some objections at a planning commission meeting from a resident and a minister in the area.

Held the second reading of an ordinance giving city employees additional benefits under the California State Employees' Retirement system.

Transferred $7000 from the general fund to pay for an emergency storm drain at Beechwood and Montrose street.

Set January 13 as the public hearing date on a controversial rezoning application for apartments that would be built by E. T. Komsthoft of San Carlos on property south of Brunswick street between Wellington avenue and Hillside boulevard.

STATUES STOLEN

Western Garden Supplies at 1851 Junipero Serra boulevard reported to Daly City police last week that thieves had taken three cement statues from a display shelf in front of the company's building.

Friends Swarm To Frozen Bread

Want to be the most popular cook in the neighborhood and at home too? Try serving a real treat — home baked bread! The aroma of bread baking in your kitchen will bring the whole family and neighbors — like bees to honey! They'll wait in line for a thick, warm slice just out of your kitchen oven.

Perhaps you will be surprised to discover that it is now easy to bake really wonderful bread at home without any of the measuring, mixing, and kneading formerly necessary. Start with a frozen loaf of Ready-To-Bake frozen bread dough from the frozen food department of your local super market.

It comes preshaped in several one-pound loaves and packed in a plastic bag. Spread the entire surface of the frozen loaf with melted butter, shortening or cooking oil. Place in a well greased 4" x 8 1/2" bread pan. Let thaw and rise by any of the methods on the package.

Bake 350 degrees F. about 30 minutes, or until golden brown. Turn out of pan immediately on a wire rack. Use a serrated bread knife to slice. Serve with butter. The warmth of the bread fresh out of the oven will melt the butter. What a culinary delight! Don't be surprised if the whole loaf disappears in a matter of a few minutes.

Try baking all three frozen loaves at one time. Eat one or two warm "just out of the oven" and freeze the remainder — when ready to eat, slice into extra thick slices and pop in the toaster for sandwiches or toast you'll never forget! It will be moist in the center and crisp on the outside with a wonderful home baked bread flavor. The plastic bag makes a practical utility bag for storing the baked bread.

Garlic bread, an old favorite, has a completely new and unforgettable twist when made with the new frozen Ready-To-Bake bread dough. It combines the wonderful aroma and flavor of fresh baked bread, garlic, and cheese. The frozen loaf is removed from the bag and allowed to thaw only slightly at room temperature — just until cuts for filling can be made down into the partially frozen loaf. This requires about 30 minutes. If the dough is allowed to become too soft, it is difficult to make the cuts and place the filling down into them. It is quite easy when the loaf is still slightly frozen.

The aroma of this easy to make garlic bread calls a warm winter welcome to the family or guests. Chopped watercress or chives give an unusual touch although the traditional chopped parsley or dried flakes are excellent in the cheese, crushed garlic and butter filling.

FRESH GARLIC BREAD
1 loaf (1 lb) Ready-To-Bake Frozen Bread Dough
2 tablespoons melted butter
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 clove garlic, minced
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons chopped fresh watercress, chives or parsley (or use 1 teaspoon dried parsley flakes)

Remove loaf of frozen bread from package. Let soften at room temperature (about 30 min.) only until it can be cut with a sharp knife. Cut about 3 to 5 slashes the length of the loaf almost to the bottom of the loaf. (See photo). Mix together butter, cheese, garlic, salt and chopped watercress, chives or parsley. Spoon garlic filling into cuts, pushing well down into loaf. Place loaf in a well greased 4 1/2" x 8 1/2" bread pan. Sprinkle top of loaf with additional Parmesan cheese and a bit of paprika. Let rise in a warm place until loaf reaches the top of the pan or is increased in volume 3 or 4 times. Bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees F. about 30 minutes. Remove from pan immediately and cool on rack.

Are your children wild about peanut butter and jam on warm fresh baked bread (and who isn't)? Try this loaf of fresh baked bread with the jam and peanut butter baked right in.

PEANUT BUTTER 'N JAM BREAD

1 loaf (1 lb) Ready-To-Bake Frozen Bread Dough
1-3 cup peanut butter
1-3 cup thick jam
1 egg yolk mixed with 1 tablespoon cream or milk
2 tablespoons chopped peanuts

Prepare cuts in partially frozen loaf as for Fresh Garlic Bread. Spoon peanut butter well down into cuts in bread, then jam. For a golden brown top when baked, spread top of loaf with egg yolk mixture and sprinkle with chopped nuts. Let rise in bread pan and bake as directed for Fresh Garlic Bread.

Candied fruit and nuts are perfect for the Holidays which are close at hand. This simple to make Holiday Loaf combines both for good eating or a gift.

SURPRISE HOLIDAY LOAF
1 loaf (1 lb) Ready-To-Bake Frozen bread dough
1/2 cup candied mixed fruit, chopped
1/4 cup finely chopped walnuts
1 teaspoon rum, if desired

Prepare cuts in loaf of bread as for Fresh Garlic Bread. Mix together candied fruit, nuts and rum. Place filling in cuts in bread and continue as for garlic bread. After loaf has baked and cooled, sprinkle with Confectioner's Sugar or spread with your favorite butter icing seasoned with a little rum. Decorate with candied fruits and nuts.

Spicy Glazed Filbert Treat
1 egg white
2 T cold water
1/2 C superfine granulated sugar
1/4 tsp. cinnamon
1/4 tsp. cloves
1/4 tsp. allspice
1/2 tsp. salt
2 C toasted whole filberts

Beat egg white slightly. Add water, sugar and spice. Mix well. Let stand until sugar is completely dissolved. Add filberts and stir gently to coat. Spread nuts on greased baking sheet. Bake in 275 degree oven for 1 hour or until glaze is crisp.

Steamed Holiday Pudding

Imagine putting carrots and potatoes in a dessert! If you've not tried this before, you're in for a surprise. It's an elegant moist pudding, spicy and nutty.

STEAMED HOLIDAY PUDDING

1 C coarsely chopped filberts
1 C flour
1 tsp. soda
1 C brown sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. cloves
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. nutmeg
2 T butter, melted
2 eggs, well beaten
1 C grated raw carrots
1 C grated raw potatoes
1 C seeded raisins

Toast filberts. Combine with remaining ingredients, mixing well. Turn into greased and floured 1-quart mold. Cover securely with aluminum foil or tight-fitting cover. Place on trivet in deep Kettle. All enough boiling water to come halfway up side of mold. Simmer with cover on kettle for 2 hours. Remove mold from kettle and loosen cover. Cool pudding to lukewarm; remove from mold. After pudding is completely cooled, wrap in aluminum foil. Before serving, unwrap pudding and steam 30 minutes or until heated through. Serve warm with Hard Sauce.

QUICK HARD SAUCE
Cream 1-3 cup butter and 1 teaspoon vanilla with 1 cup powdered sugar and a dash of salt. Beat in about 1 teaspoon cream. Pile in bowl and chill until cold but not hard.

2-Minute Brownies For Friends

A spur-of-the-moment sweet treat for family and friends. These cake-like brownies are a snap to put together. Let your mixer do the work.

TWO-MINUTE BROWNIES
1 C chopped filberts
1/4 C sifted flour
1 C sugar
1/2 C cocoa
1/2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
2-3 C butter
2 eggs, unbeaten
1 tsp. vanilla
1 T corn syrup

Toast filberts. Sift next 5 ingredients into mixing bowl. Add remaining ingredients, except filberts, and beat 2 minutes on low speed of mixer or 200 strokes by hand. Stir in filberts, reserving a few for the top. Spread in 9-inch square greased pan. Sprinkle reserved nuts over the top. Bake at 350 degrees about 35 minutes. Cool and cut.

DATE WITH A MUFFIN
Mix up a batch of date muffins (using a packaged mix) and add 1 cup chopped nuts. Bakes 12 to 16 big muffins.

YOU CAN FREEZE fresh baked bread made from frozen bread dough. Eat one or two loaves, "just out of the oven," and freeze remainder. Later, when ready to eat, cut into extra-thick slices and pop into toaster.

NOTE-WORTHY NUTS place. Place nuts in wire popper or place in a 325 degree oven. Shell ROAST filberts in the shell and shake over coals to heat when cool enough to handle and over a barbecue or in your fire evenly. Or, roast in a 325 degree oven. Salt, if you like.

THE TURKEY is all set, ready to slip into the oven. It is to be roasted in a shallow sided roasting pan fitted with a v-shaped adjustable rack which allows the heat to circulate completely around the turkey. The turkey breast is covered with a piece of suet to aid browning, insure moisture and develop flavor.

WHETHER YOU CARVE the turkey in the kitchen or at the table, the roast carving grip shown here makes the job easier. This particular carver likes to carve the legs and thighs in the kitchen, slicing the dark meat and arranging it on a platter for first helpings, continuing the carving at the table. This way he gets the messiest part done away from the table and gives the diners a chance to start eating while the food is hot.

Tips on Handling Christmas Turkey

The roasting of the turkey for the holiday feast takes precedence over all other foods, for it's the turkey that must be perfect.

Through the years, the technique for roasting turkeys has undergone a complete change. Instead of the old-fashioned covered deep roasting pan, which steamed rather than roasted the turkey, today's cooks are urged to use a shallow roasting pan. The best type is one that comes fitted with an adjustable v-shaped rack that will elevate the turkey enough above the bottom of the pan to allow the heat to circulate completely around the turkey thus producing the dry heat so necessary for roasting.

Before serving, the carver, also by tradition, gets the first taste of the juicy meat. If the rules have been followed, you'll know it by the gleam in his eye—the turkey is good!

Entertain With Tea in Morning

The enterprising hostess can start a welcome trend among her friends by entertaining with a morning tea. The occasion might be a planned one such as a welcome to a newcomer, a party for a guest, a committee meeting or a shower for the bride-to-be. Or, it might be just a neighborly visit during that relatively free time of the day, about 10 or so.

Typical of tested tea-time recipes is this one for Orange Blossom Cake, a perfect choice for a morning tea:

ORANGE BLOSSOM CAKE
1 cup milk
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup margarine
1/2 cup very warm water
3 packages or cakes yeast, active, dry or compressed
3 eggs, beaten
6 1/2 to 7 cups sifted flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup chopped royal pecans
1/4 cup grated orange rind
1/2 cup orange juice

Sift milk, stir in sugar, salt and margarine. Cool to lukewarm. Measure very warm water into bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture, eggs and half the flour. Beat until smooth. Stir in enough remaining flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on a lightly floured board and knead until smooth and elastic. Divide dough in half. Roll each half into a rope 16 inches long. Cut each into 16 equal pieces. Shape into balls. Place balls in well-greased 10-inch tube pan. Brush lightly with melted margarine. Sprinkle with half the mixture of sugar, pecans and orange rind. Repeat with remaining balls and sugar mixture. Cover and let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 45 minutes. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 40 to 45 minutes. Let cool in pan on wire rack 10 minutes. Invert pan and finish cooling. Remove cake. Pierce sides and bottom with tines of fork and spoon on orange juice until absorbed. Makes one 10-inch cake.

Make Patty Shaped Candy A Day Ahead

Plan to make these patty shaped candies a day ahead. They "firm up" on standing. Real good packers!

FILBERT PENCHE DROPS

1 1/2 C halved filberts
1 C brown sugar
C granulated sugar
1/4 C light corn syrup
1/2 C light cream
1 T butter
1 tsp. vanilla

Toast filberts. Mix sugars, corn syrup and cream in saucepan. Cook, stirring, until mixture reaches soft ball stage (238 degrees). Remove from heat. Add butter and vanilla. Beat until blended. Add filberts and stir until coated. Drop quickly from teaspoon onto waxed paper. Makes 2 to 2 1/2 dozen pieces.

BEANS AND BACON

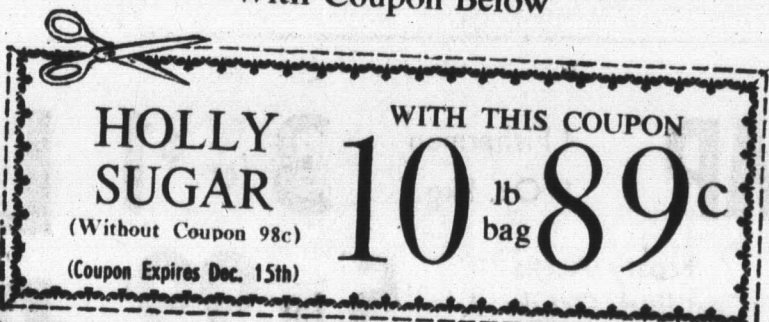

When making bacon for breakfast, fry a few extra strips and crumble. At dinner-time, heat a can of blue lake green beans in their liquid; drain and toss beans with crumbled bacon.

PEACHY KRAUT-FRANKS
Brown frankfurters with a little butter in skillet. Spoon drained sauerkraut mixed with a dash of caraway seed over frankfurters; top with canned cling peach slices and moisten with peach syrup. Cover and cook gently about 10 minutes until heated through.

STUFFED CABBAGE ROLLS filled with rice or kasha — a good choice for this time of year when cabbage is so good.

Many Kinds of Cabbage Rolls

Cabbage rolls like mamma makes may be any of a dozen different kinds depending on mamma's background.

Some food historians say that stuffed cabbage rolls date back to Greek Dolmades which are stuffed grape leaves. In time, cabbage leaves replaced the grape leaves and became popular throughout South and Central Europe, and eventually all over the world.

The Russians call stuffed cabbage leaves Golubtsi, a word that means pigeons, perhaps because the rolls themselves are rounded or pigeon shaped.

In Sweden they are called Kaldolmar, which means cabbage cloaks. It is said that the Swedes borrowed the dish from the Russians who in turn got it from the Turks.

Whatever you call them and however you make them, this is an ideal time of the year for light hearted cabbage rolls made with fresh new cabbage.

After trying many cabbage-roll varieties, home economists settled on these recipes.

Rice Stuffed Cabbage Rolls

1 (2½ to 3-pound) head cabbage

1-3 cup margarine

1 cup finely chopped onion

3 cups cooked rice (do not use quick cooking variety)

2 eggs, slightly beaten

¼ cup seedless raisins (optional)

1 teaspoon salt

¼ teaspoon pepper

4 to 6 tablespoons margarine

½ cup finely chopped onion

2 (8-ounce) cans tomato sauce

¼ cup water

2 tomatoes, peeled and cut into large pieces

Discard outer leaves of cabbage; remove core. Hold head under cold running water and gently remove 12 large leaves. (Allow water to run between leaf and head for easy removal). Put leaves and remainder of head into 2 to 3 inches boiling salted water in kettle. Cover and cook until almost tender, about 7 minutes. Drain and cool.

Melt 1-3 cup margarine in small skillet. Add 1 cup chopped onion; cook over low heat, stirring frequently, until tender.

Combine rice, eggs, raisins, salt, pepper and onion-margarine mixture in large bowl. Chop remainder of cabbage head (will get about 4 cups); toss with rice mixture. Place about ½ cup mixture at stem end of each cabbage leaf. Fold stem end over filling; fold sides over and roll up. Fasten with wooden picks if necessary.

Melt about 4 tablespoons margarine in large skillet. Add several cabbage rolls and cook over medium-low heat, turning as needed, until lightly browned on all sides. Repeat with remaining rolls, adding additional margarine if needed. When last cabbage rolls have been browned and removed from skillet, add ½ cup chopped onion to mixture in skillet and cook over low heat, stirring frequently, until tender. Stir in tomato sauce, water and tomatoes. Add cabbage rolls or put rolls and sauce into Dutch oven; cover. Bring sauce to boil; reduce heat and simmer until cabbage veins are tender, about 1 to 1½ hours. Makes 12 rolls.

Kasha Stuffed Cabbage Rolls: Prepare cabbage as directed for Rice Stuffed Cabbage Rolls, cooking 12 leaves and about ¼ of the remainder of head (will need 1 cup finely chopped, cooked cabbage). Using large skillet, cook 1 cup chopped onion in 1-3 cup margarine until tender. Combine 2 slightly beaten eggs, 1½ cups groats, 1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper; stir into onion mixture, then pour in 3 cups boiling water. Cover; cook over low heat until all liquid is absorbed, about 15 minutes. Turn into large mixing bowl and fluff with fork. Mix in 1 cup chopped cooked cabbage and ½ cup raisins. Place mixture on cabbage leaves and continue as directed for Rice Stuffed version.

Fabulous Fruit Cake For Christmas!

A homemade fruit cake makes one of the nicest gifts . . . and, oddly enough, it is one of the easiest cakes to make; it is really fool proof!

Serving idea: heat slices and top with hard sauce or ice cream to serve instead of the traditional Christmas pudding.

Traditional Fruit Cake

5 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour

1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder

1/2 teaspoon ground cloves

1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon

1/2 teaspoon ground mace

1/2 pound candied cherries

1/2 pound candied pineapple, diced

1 pound pitted California dates, sliced

1 pound seedless raisins

1 pound currants

1 pound butter or other shortening

1 pound brown sugar

10 eggs, well beaten

Fruit and nut mixture*

1 cup honey

1 cup molasses

1/2 cup cider

*Fruit and nut mixture:

1/2 pound candied citron, thinly sliced

1/2 pound candied orange and lemon peel, thinly sliced

1/2 pound walnuts, chopped

Sift flour, baking powder, and spices, together three times. Cream shortening; gradually add sugar, creaming until light and fluffy. Add eggs, fruit and nut mixture, honey, molasses, and cider. Gradually add flour, beating after each addition until well mixed.

To bake: Grease, line with heavy paper, and grease again one 9x5-inch loaf pan and one 10-inch tube pan. Spoon 1/3 of mixture (about 6 cups) into loaf pan. Spoon remaining mixture into tube pan. Bake in slow oven (275°F.) about 4 hours for loaf cake and about 5 hours for tube cake. Thoroughly cool cakes in pans on cake racks—about 5 hours.

To store: Remove cakes from pans and pull off paper. Wrap in cheesecloth which has been sprinkled with brandy. Store in cool room in air-tight container, or wrap tightly in aluminum foil or transparent saran. Redampen cheesecloth and rewrap cakes about every 4 weeks.

TRIO OF DELICIOUS SNACK FOODS are all made from canned salmon. In the foreground a Party Pate; to the left, a luscious sour cream and salmon dip; in the rear a cream cheese-salmon bombe to spread on crackers or between slices of bread.

Let Salmon Prepare For the Unexpected

A good-natured neighborliness and chill. Serve with crackers or vegetable sticks. Makes 1½ pints.

CHEESE BOMBE SPREAD
 1½ pounds soft cream cheese
 1 can (7¾ ounces) drained and flaked salmon
 1 tablespoon grated onion and juice
 1 teaspoon worcestershire sauce
 ½ teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon caraway seeds
 ½ cup minced parsley or finely chopped nuts
 Beat cream cheese and salmon until smooth. Beat in onion and juice, worcestershire sauce, salt, and caraway seeds. Sprinkle parsley or nuts on a piece of wax paper and pile the salmon-cheese mixture into the center. Press into a ball in the wax paper and chill. Serve on crackers or as a filling for sliced dark pumpernickle bread. Enough filling for 16 large sandwiches.

SALMON PARTY PATE
 1 envelope gelatine
 1 can beef consommé (10½ ounces with added gelatin)
 1 pound can salmon
 ¼ cup minced parsley
 3 pimiento, diced, or ½ cup 6 tablespoons mayonnaise
 1 teaspoon grated onion and juice
 1 teaspoon lemon juice
 ¼ teaspoon salt
 6 dashes tabasco
 Soften gelatin in the beef consommé. Heat, stirring, until gelatin is thoroughly dissolved. Pour ½ cup of the consommé into a small loaf pan (7½ x 3½ x 2¼) and chill until set. Flake salmon into a mixing bowl and beat in remaining beef consommé. Beat until mixture is well blended. Fold in parsley, pimiento, mayonnaise, onion, lemon juice, salt and tabasco. Pour into pan over the set aspic and chill for 2 hours, or until set. Unmold and garnish with lemon wedges. Slice and serve on slices of buttered pumpernickle bread. Serves 8 to 10.

Fresh Apples Ornament Snack Tray

The historic partners of apples and cheese make a decorative holiday appearance when they're teamed in unusual ways for modern snacking. At this time of year fresh apples are at their tangiest, sweetest, crunchiest, complementing perfectly the smooth, flavorful cheeses. Best of all eating apples are the Red and Golden Delicious from the world's Apple Bowl, Washington State. These large-sized, sweet-flavored apples are perfect for fresh eating, for holiday salads, for low-calorie snacking.

Unusual is the two-tier tray service above, combining Washington Golden Delicious crescents with wedges of Edam cheese, spicy cream cheese and nut balls, slivers of smoked cheese or meat, and slices of American cheese. Your holiday guests will enjoy choosing fresh Washington applesnack combinations to please their individual tastes.

Apple'n Cheese Christmas Ball
 2 large Washington Golden Delicious apples
 1 small Edam cheese
 Cut one Washington Golden Delicious apple into eights; put crescent-shaped apple wedges in lemoned-water bath. Cut Edam cheese into crescents to match apple wedges. Re-build ball on tray alternating cheese and apple wedges, using toothpicks to hold together. Arrange any remaining cheese crescents on platter around second, uncut Washington Golden Delicious apple.

Curried Cheese Balls
 1 8-oz. package cream cheese
 2 tsp. cream
 ½ tsp. curry powder
 ½ tsp. grated orange rind
 ½ cup chopped nuts
 2 Washington Delicious apples
 Soften cream cheese; blend in cream, curry, and orange rind. Let chill slightly, then form into balls. Roll in chopped nuts; chill until ready to serve. Then combine on platter with Washington apples.

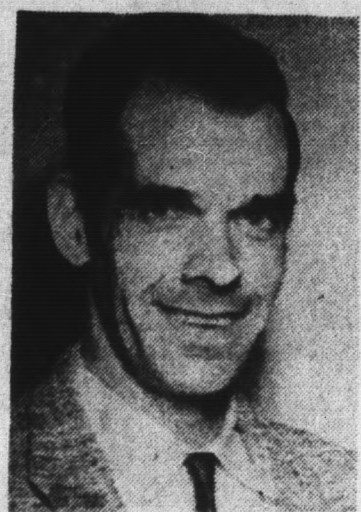

Keith's Chicken, Steak House—Home Delivery

Keith Williamson is one gent who keeps my fingers on the typewriter and my ears alert. Almost everytime I stop off for chicken in a basket at his Chicken and Steak House he has a new idea. And last Monday morn was no exception.

"Johnson," said Keith as he joined me at the table, "I've decided to add spaghetti and ravioli to my menu—in addition to the chicken, steaks and seafood."

"Take out, too?" I inquired. "Yep, take out or eat in. I've also started a home delivery service. All the customer has to do is phone in and the order is delivered right to the front door in less time than it takes to heat an oven."

"Another thing I'd like to point out is that the restaurant is not for sale. True, I was thinking of expanding. But since the new menu additions and the home delivery service, I'll be just about as busy as one person can be tending to one location—which has two dining rooms and is open seven days a week from

KEITH WILLIAMSON

4 p.m. to 10 p.m. week days. Sundays from 12 noon to 9 p.m. No luncheon service.

"In 'chicken language,' continued Keith, 'I'm keeping all my eggs in one basket.' This was a good conversation start for a Monday morning. And as I mentioned before, anything can happen—and usually does—at Keith Williamson's Chicken and Steak House.

"DAPPER" FRANK DENNISON, general manager of the Sheraton-Villa Motor Inn, publishes a sheet which he calls the "Blaabermouth." After scanning through, I find that my good friend—and yours—Sheriff Earl Whitmore was a judge at a lock picking contest sponsored by the California Locksmiths Convention recently held here. Earl, being a "Yale" man, had no trouble picking the winner. Mr. Dennison also reports: Jack Loftus, bartender in the Bloody Mary's cocktail lounge, has a friend who isn't cheap when it comes to paying the check. It's just that he has an impediment in his reach—and tippin' to him is a city in China. Seems I've met up with this friend somewhere along the line... Something new at the fast-growing Char Pit: It's Family Night on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

F. Dennison

On these eyes you may enjoy a New York Steak or Broasted Chicken served with crisp green salad, potatoes, and a French roll for only $1.29. Woodside Plaza is the site (a few blocks West of Five Points)...

THE VILLA CHARTIER has long been a pop Peninsula headquarters for Christmas parties. According to owner Emerson Murfee, reservations are far ahead of any previous year. The Villa Chartier, with its luxurious, yet friendly and comfortable decor, and delicious food prepared by noted Chef Jerry Englehardt, is everything people are looking for in a fine restaurant. Experienced bar men and chic, efficient waitresses make the service at the Villa Chartier superb. Seven private rooms seating from 15 to 150 people and private bar service also available for your parties. Early reservations are urged... Last call for New Year's Eve reservation at the Cafe del Rio in Almaden. You'll have a ball! This is my Omar Khayyam's Thanksgiving dinner record was shattered during the recent holiday—and rightly should have been—considering the flawless food reputation of genial George Mardikian... A New Southern restaurant dessert that is as popular with the customers as any item on the menu includes cake, ice cream, and bitter chocolate. Try it—you'll be a member of the "family."

E. Murfee

LUZ GARCIA, the little lady who signs the checks at the Sinaloa, was "swooned" by Elvis Presley's latest pic, "Fun in Acapulco." She caught the show at the San Francisco St. Francis Theater, last Thursday eve, and sat through three showings. "His Latin songs are so romantic!" Luz smilingly confessed with a twinkle in her eye. She oughta know—her Powell Street cantina has featured Latin music for many a season... The Pepper Steak Flambe at Phil Lehr's Steakery, prepared with Blue Ribbon Beef, is the most popular dish at Lehr's... Pancho's in Redwood City, with its friendly, come-as-you-are atmosphere, is an ideal spot to bring the family after a long day of Christmas shopping. Pancho's choice south-of-the-border delicacies and moderate prices are bringing more people to Five Points on El Camino Real.

Flash: Luz Garcia has inked the great Flamenco dance team of Raquel and Carlo, who have just completed a tour of South America, for a December 16th opening at her Sinaloa. They will be a welcome addition to the "Holiday in Mexico" all-Latin revue which is currently playing to capacity crowds Monday through Saturdays. The Sinaloa is not open Sundays.

Biz Booming, Carpet Later, Says Barney

Pity the plight of Barney O'Malis, the Lake Tahoe Barney's Casino owner who purchased a new wall-to-wall carpet with the thought in mind that during the winter months business would "lull" off a bit and he would have time to floor it. However, business is not on a par with last year at this time—it has tripled and is still on the upgrade. Come what may, Barney has his sights set to have the carpet laid before the traditional St. Patrick's Day party on March 17.

Barney's is open 24-hours a day, with bus, air, and drive-in accommodations. Free coffee in the new upper-level "O'Houlihan's Hideout" and plenty of free parking right next door to the casino.

Take advantage of Barney's free dollar coupon that appears in the advertisement. Present it to Barney's Casino cashier and receive "one buck" in cash. Do with it as you please.

Princeton Inn Plans Party

The New Year's Eve party planned by Milt Tonini for his Princeton Inn promises to be a "gasser." It will be a midnight buffet dinner for $7.50 (includes tax and tip). Tickets are now available. There will be hats, horns and the deep voice of Milt Tonini for noise making on this gala evening. So plan to enjoy the advent of 1964 here.

... Holiday banquets and parties, plus luncheons and dinner reservations are no problem if you stop by the Brentwood Lodge... The "confessions of a well-bred steer" are carried out to table perfection at the Hyatt House Hotel. By following Ed Sullivan's advertisement, this week, you'll see just what that means.

Between his many restaurant duties, Vince Licata and his family manage to take time off to enjoy the big shows in San Francisco and Nevada. Last weekend was no exception—they were ringside for the Rusty Warren Show at the Village.

Confessions of a Well-Bred Steer

I was born on the Hyatt ranch. Very good stock: Black Angus.

Hyatt steer are the only corn-fed steer west of Kansas City.

I grew up to be a fine, healthy animal. The future looked bright.

I left the green pastures of my youth to discover fame and fortune.

Now I get top billing at Hyatt House. In rich steaks and roasts.

Don't let the story end here. Dazzle yourself with a Hyatt House beef specialty. Phone for reservations.

"What Christmas Means to Me"

DONNA KUHLMANN
49 OTAY AVENUE
SAN MATEO, CALIFORNIA
Donna who is a "Bluebird" member tells us her favorite hobby is reading and swimming. She writes "Christmas means a very happy time to me. I go shopping and I see very beautiful things. I see Santa Claus and he asks me what I want for Christmas. My father and I go and buy a Christmas tree every year. It is very much fun. Sometimes I get a Christmas tree for my room. When I go shopping I buy some ornaments for our Christmas tree. Then when Christmas comes I put the ornaments on our Christmas tree. Also every year I bring toys that are too little for me to the fire department for poor children." Donna attends the 3rd grade at the George Hall school. Donna has one sister.

ALLAN SMITH
349 MINA LANE
PACIFICA, CALIFORNIA
Seven-year-old Allan Smith writes "WHAT CHRISTMAS MEANS TO ME." "It means that a good day is coming up and I will open up my presents that day. That day I will reach into my stocking to get some goodies and eat them. After that and say mmmmmmm—mmmmmmmm." Allan printed this letter in his very own hand writing. Allan is in the second grade at Westview School. Allan has 2 brothers and two sisters. His mother tells us his hobby is gathering frogs behind his home.

Laying a Sewage Line Is an Involved Job

Making It Airtight

A VACUUM TEST of the field welds were made in addition to the X-ray test to insure a solid weld. The vacuum box has an air-tight plexiglass top so that the tester could spot any air openings. Note vacuum pump in foreground.

North County Sanitation District Pipe Extends 2500 Feet Into Ocean

The North San Mateo County Sanitation district has completed the installation of a new submarine ocean outfall line, which cost approximately $350,000.

The sewage transmission line extends 2500 feet into the Pacific Ocean at a point just north of Thornton Beach.

The district received a federal grant for the project last year from the Department of Health, Welfare and Education after the California Water Pollution board issued a cease and desist order for the district's old system.

The district's previous outfall line was built in 1895 and could not meet an increased sewage load. The surrounding beaches were being contaminated, the state charged.

The new outfall line carries the treated sewage into the ocean where it is dispersed by defusers.

The system can be compared to diluting a solution in millions of gallons of water.

The line was brought to a construction site in several pieces. The pieces were welded together, tested and then shoved back into San Francisco's huge Lake Merced storm tunnel.

When the line was completed, it was towed out to sea.

Once the major portion of the line, was positioned, then an added segment, jutting at an angle from the district's present Vista Grande outfall line, was connected to it.

The North San Mateo County Sanitation district handles the sewage of Daly City, Broadmoor and Westborough. On the board of directors are chairman Francis Pacelli, Daly City Mayor Joseph Verducci and chairman of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors, James Fitzgerald.

The construction work was performed by Oscar C. Holmes of Menlo Park.

A Look Inside

THE OUTFALL LINE was assembled, pushed back into the huge Lake Merced storm tunnel and then pulled out into the ocean in a single piece. A hookup to the present Vista Grande line was constructed later.

As a Bird Sees It

OVERHEAD VIEW of the operation at Thornton Beach. A temporary breakwater had to be built to keep the tide from covering the construction site. The pull has just commenced. Note bulldozers keeping sand ramp in place near the end of the line.

Checking for Flaws

AN X-RAY lab on the flat above the Lake Merced storm tunnel was used to inspect the welded joints of segments of pipe before they were shoved back into the tunnel.

Hitching Up

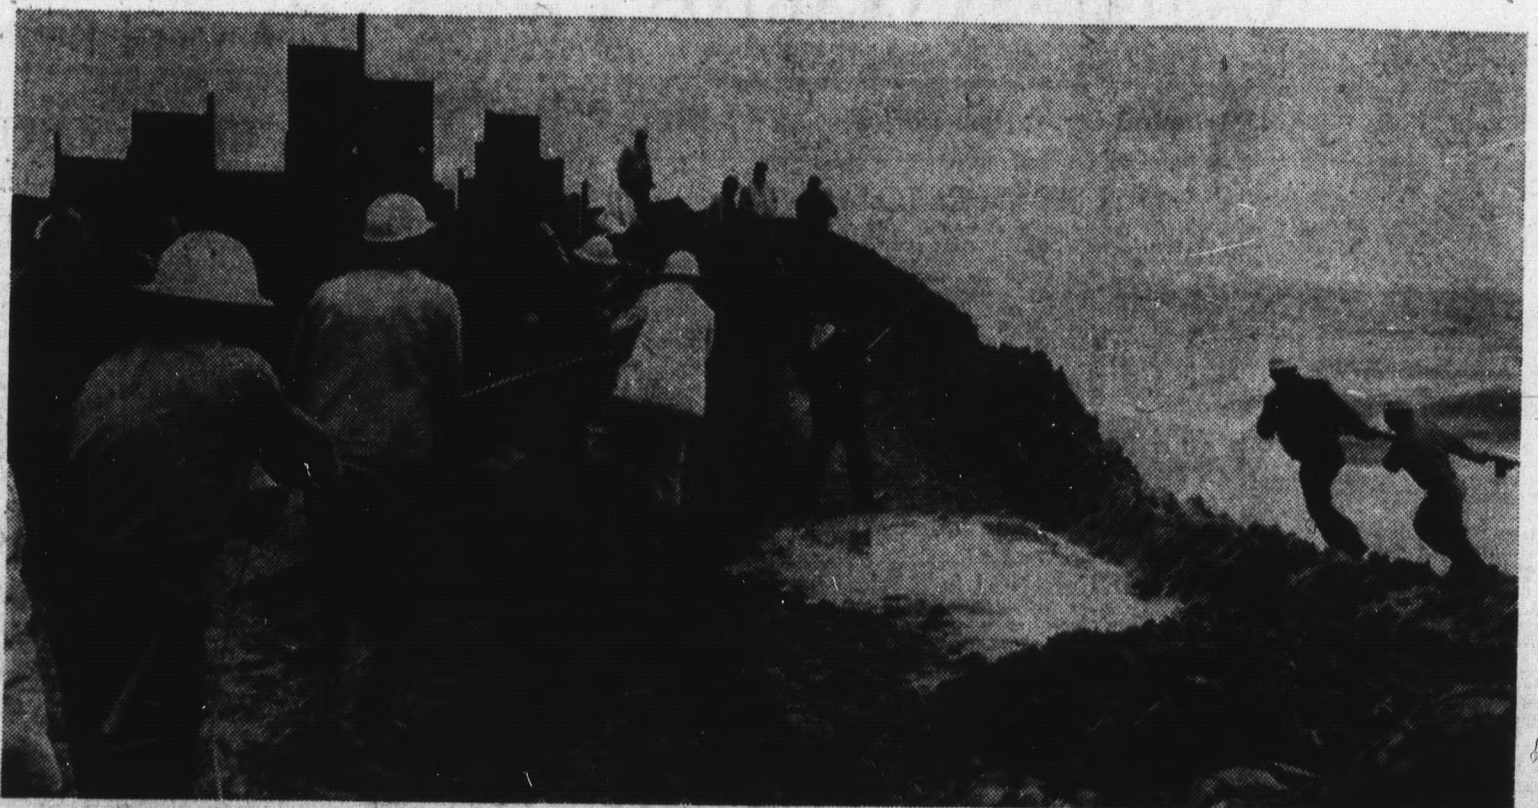

HOOKING UP—Workmen hook up a harness to a sled just before the pulling operation. The outfall line was mounted on train wheels which were pulled out as the line began its trip toward the sea.

Getting Ready

LINING UP—A surveyor lines up the tow barge with the course of direction of the Thornton Beach outfall line. Note the two-way walkie-talkie.

Showing a Lot of Pull

PULLING THE LINE—Construction workers pull the towing line ashore to hook up to the outfall line harness. A small line was shot from a rocket to the site. The line was used to pull the towing cables ashore.
